This Little World

By GEORGE BRITT
N.E.A. Service Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Styles in chorus girls this fall run to youth and plumpness.

Not bulkiness. But a fullness of figure different from the willowy types of years ago. Whether that ideal prevails elsewhere is a matter for research, but it is accepted by a leading producer here.

Half a dozen members of his chorus attend high school by day, and at night they are brought to work by vigilant and proud mothers.

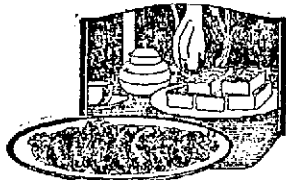

Cities are the places where people do not grow old. There, persons of 50, 60 or beyond, do not resign themselves to do without the pastimes of youth. Gray hairs are as likely to be found in a ballroom as at the theatre, at parties past midnight as well as sliding beside the fire at home. It would be scandalous in a village but—

When persons may walk three blocks across the Loop at noon just as quickly as they could ride a taxi through the congested traffic, why don't they walk? Perhaps walking has become a lost art. Certainly it is true that the business man rides the three blocks, and his wife on a shopping trip takes a cab for the few blocks between stores.

The taxicab business reflects the tendency by the trouble the companies have in keeping their drivers from concentrating too thickly downtown. The short-haul trade is profitable, and they want to hang around and get lots of it. Walking would at least save the cab companies that difficulty.

The government shows too lurid a taste in posters, is the complaint of the attorney for a famous hotel here, closed by injunction for violating the prohibition act. The posters objected to were printed in red and explained that the building would be unoccupied for one year. Too large, too glaring, too giddy and a bad example, were among the complaints entered against them before the judge. The posters are still there.

Listen to motorists, and one may believe half the suburban towns around Chicago are paying their streets by extortionate fines. The favorite country town setting for such stories is Justice park. The name, according to drivers, should not refer to the qualities of penalties exacted but justice of the peace, whose authority rests heavy upon innocent and guilty alike.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS

OF GOV. WALTON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 9 (By the Associated Press).—Additional witnesses today in the impeachment trial of Gov. J. C. Walton in support of its charge that the executive diverted public funds to his own use by entering his personal chauffeur on the payroll of the state health department.

The allegation constitutes article 2 of the impeachment bill against the governor.

The testimony of all witnesses yesterday at the opening session of the trial told how P. L. Edwards, the alleged chauffeur, was placed on the health department payroll as an inspector under an agreement between Governor Walton and Dr. A. E. Davidson, state health commissioner, who is an appointee of the governor.

Edwards did not work for the department, but was paid a monthly salary of $200 while he operated the executive's private automobiles, the testimony showed.

FLOOD OF MONEY TO HALT RUN ON WICHITA BANK

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 9.—Officials of the Fourth National bank of Wichita, the second largest in Kansas, were prepared this morning to turn loose a flood of money should there be a continuation of the run which started yesterday after circulation of rumors that the institution's financial condition was unsound.

The Federal Reserve bank, members of the local Clearing House association, Wichita business men and numerous outside banks rushed to the assistance of the Fourth national when the run was at its height and it was announced last night by Herman Herndon, vice president, that $2,500,000 in cash would be on hand with the opening of business this morning.

One version of the rumors leading up to the run, was that an employee of the bank who had been discharged circulated statements that the institutions standing had been impaired.

GENERAL ELECTION ON PROTECTION ISSUE

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Circles close to Prime Minister Baldwin favor December 10 as the date for the general election on the protection issue, the Daily Mail says. With equal assurance the Daily Express says that no election is contemplated next month.

The cabinet meets today, when the question of appealing to the country on a protective tariff issue will be discussed.

This is Lord Mayor's day, when the famous Lord Mayor's Show lumbers through the streets of London, its antiquated pageantry relieved by an infusion of modern troops and tableaux representing scientific discoveries and inventions. The show will be followed by the annual banquet at Guildhall.

This feast customarily is the occasion of important ministerial speeches and it is thought that Mr. Baldwin may let the election out of the bag when he makes his address.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS RECAPTURED

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—The heavy steel gates at the eastern state penitentiary closed again today on Francis J. Flynn, one of the long term prisoners who escaped from the institution Monday night.

Flynn was brought back to the penitentiary today and placed in a dark cell.

Flynn, who had been arrested in Reading for illegal carrying and sentenced to 10 days, was recognized by the warden of the Berks county jail when he was taken there to begin his sentence. He was taken into custody as he stepped from an Allentown freight train. He told the authorities that he had left Philadelphia on a freight train immediately after escaping and had not seen Emil Brody, one of the four who made the break for liberty, since the pistol battle in the corridor of the penitentiary. Brody is the only one still at large.

The largest submarine power cable in existence is in Japan. It is 23 miles long and weighs six tons a 1000 feet.

Only Real Objection is "Our Dislike to Admit We Have Been Wrong Three Years"

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—The only real objection to American's entry into the League of Nations is "our dislike to admit we have been wrong for three or four years in maintaining a spirit of isolation," Dr. Hammon Holt, vice chairman of the executive committee of the League of Nations non-partisan committee declared in an address here yesterday.

"Many Americans are against the league because of Article X," he added. "Most of us are not quite sure what this article means. But Article X is simply a glorified and purified Monroe doctrine which all of us so stupidly defend and simply means that we have let ourselves be ourselves whip South America."

Rebel Leaders Are Surrounded

munication having been suspended, railway traffic stopped, and an edict issued by War Minister Goessler forbidding publication of other than official reports regarding events in Bavaria.

The French government, which yesterday gave official warning in Berlin that it would not tolerate establishment of a nationalist military dictatorship, is watching developments closely, and Premier Poincare this morning was in conference with his war minister, while the inter-allied council of ambassadors, representing all the allied powers, has been called to meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon to consider the situation.

The revolt had a depressing effect on foreign exchanges in the New York market, new low records for the year being established by demand sterling, Swedish krona, Norwegian and Danish kroner, and Dutch guilders. French and Belgian francs also declined sharply. Cotton prices fell off.

To Protect French Troops

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press) The French general staff foresees the necessity for certain military measures to protect the French troops in the Ruhr in the event of grave disorders in Germany or in case there is the menace of an armed movement against the occupation troops.

The first of these measures would be to straighten out the military line in Westphalia, as the Ruhr now forms a sort of square pocket exposed to attack on three sides. This operation would be accomplished by taking strategic positions, such as the Ruhr. Such eventual dispositions of troops could be executed without delay.

If the circumstances should seem to require them, France could easily put in motion 200,000 men. Fifty-five thousand are already in the Ruhr, 35,000 more are in the Rhineland, while an additional 50,000 are within easy reach of the frontier.

Large garrisons are stationed at Metz and Strasbourg, smaller ones are all along the Rhine in Alsace, while there are reserves at Belfort, Epinal and Verdun, not far away.

The French high command is not likely to be surprised by any development in Germany that is hostile to France, as its system of intelligence is understood to be most complete.

Fifth Anniversary of Republic

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press) The fifth birthday of the German republic finds the forces of reaction in control of the government of Bavaria with Gen. Ludendorff as commander-in-chief of the army and Adolf Hitler, who proclaimed the overthrow of the state regime, established as his political adviser. Several of the Bavarian ministers, including Premier Von Knilling, are reported to be under arrest.

The first fragmentary advices from Munich were to the effect that the rebellion was only against the Von Knilling government, but as other reports were received the impression grew that the revolt was also aimed at the central government and that the leaders of the coup had proclaimed the overthrow of the Ebert-Stresemann regime.

This impression gained strength when a proclamation to the German people was issued in which the government, announcing that steps to restore order had been taken, and would be carried out "with the utmost vigor," asserted that an "armed band" in Munich had "arrogated to itself the right to institute a government of the Reich," had made Ludendorff commander-in-chief of the German army and had established Hitler as "dictator of the destinies of Germany."

Dr. Von Kahr, who several weeks ago was made military dictator of Bavaria, has accepted the governorship of the state "as a representative of the monarchy," Gen. Von Lossow, leader of the Bavarian Reichswehr has been named minister of war, while Herr Von Poehner, former chief of police of Munich, has been made administrator.

When word of the revolt reached Berlin, the central government severed all relations with Bavaria, appointed Gen. Von Seeckt as commander-in-chief of the national army and announced the withdrawal of all federal support from the rebellious state until constitutional conditions should be resumed.

The government also addressed the following manifesto to the German people:

"At this moment of great tension in the foreign and domestic situation some foolish people are endeavoring to break up the German Reich."

"An armed band has overthrown the government in Munich, arrogated to itself the right to institute a government of the Reich. It has made Ludendorff commander-in-chief of the German army and has made Hitler, who was naturalized only some days ago, arbiter of the destinies of Germany."

"There is no need to say that this decision to carry a coup d'etat can have no effect. Whoever supports this movement will be guilty of high treason."

Instead of helping in the Rhineland and the Ruhr our brethren who are fighting in Germany's cause, such persons are plunging the Reich into a catastrophe, threatening it with an invasion and they are destroying all chances of economic improvement.

"The recent measures of the Reich in the monetary domain have had the effect of notably improving the position of the mark abroad within the last 24 hours. This will be lost if the attempt made in Munich succeeds."

"We exhort all patriots to defend the unity, order and liberty of the Reich. All steps to combat the coup d'etat and to restore order have been taken and will be carried out with the utmost vigor."

Civil War Inevitable

LONDON, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press) Civil war in Germany is regarded here as the only logical outcome of the rebel action in Munich and on the face of news hitherto received, such a result is considered inevitable.

The ultimate purpose of the Hitler-Von Kahr-Ludendorff combination is not yet apparent, but all advices reaching London seem to point to an attempt to restore the monarchy in Germany with Bavaria replacing Prussia as the dominant state.

Gen. Ludendorff, it seems, is to be the military dictator of the Reich, and the republic is to be swept away. Whether he and his fellow conspirators are men of the right mettle to effect the change remains to be seen, but the reputations given Von Kahr and Hitler in despatch to the English newspapers during the last few weeks, do not suggest that these men possess the necessary qualifications for carrying out such a momentous undertaking.

No word reaching London indicates the attitude of the Reichswehr toward the Munich revolt, but on the loyalty of these troops to the Berlin government everything of course depends.

Hitherto there has been nothing to show that any resistance was offered the Hitlerites in Munich and the indications are that the initial stage of the rebellion passed bloodlessly.

The names of Prince Rupprecht or other members of the Bavarian family, do not appear in any dispatches reaching here, and whether they are included in the plans of the conspirators can be only conjectured at present.

Little except official news is likely to get out of Berlin for many hours in view of rigid censorship established as soon as news of the putsch reached the capital.

Reports reaching London early this morning said that Berlin was swarming with troops last night and that the Reich cabinet was in continuous session.

It is assumed here that President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann will do their utmost to avoid fighting, but General von Seeckt, who has been appointed commander-in-chief of the national army and invested with full military authority, apparently has been given a free hand in disposing of the Reichswehr forces.

What effect the whole situation will have in France, is among the greatest anxieties of the moment here.

Sensation in Paris

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press).—The coup d'etat in Munich which has put into power, Adolf Hitler, leader of the Bavarian Fascists and Gen. Ludendorff, has created a tremendous sensation here, although such an event had been foreseen.

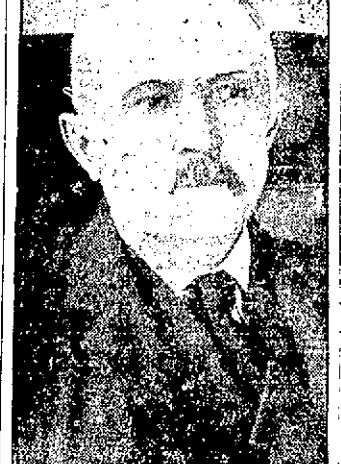

It is feared that the movement will not be confined to Bavaria and it is doubtful whether the Reichswehr or national defense troops, will be able to resist it. Ludendorff, it is pointed out, is too much of a Prussian to desire to promote a great Bavaria. He is a monarchist and a legitimist and has always declared for the restoration of the Hohenzollerns.

Thereaction may have been precipitated, it is believed here, by the decision of the allied council of ambassadors yesterday and Premier Poincare's warning to Germany that France would not tolerate a national military dictatorship. According to Le Matin, the premier's

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR GEORGE C. MOORE

Impressive services this afternoon marked the funeral of George C. Moore, late proprietor of the George C. Moore Wool Scouring mills and the North Chelmsford Machine Supply company.

The services were held in the North Chelmsford Congregational church at 2 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. B. Ambrose Jenkins.

GEORGE C. MOORE

ing the Rev. B. Ambrose Jenkins of Rovers, former pastor, and the Rev. Wilfred D. Harrison, present pastor. Many friends were in attendance and there was a profusion of floral tributes.

The honorary bearers were: John F. Sawyer, A. G. Pollard, Fred C. Church, Charles E. Valser, E. G. Preston, Leroy Brown, E. H. Bright, and Elmer Silver, while the casket bearers were Messrs. Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher, Edgemoor, Walter I. Chase, H. Stanley Crayner, John Bridgford and Fred I. Vinal.

Appropriate selections were rendered during the services by the Mendelssohn quartet.

Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Harry S. Griffin of New York, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Healey.

FUNERALS

HUSE.—The funeral of Charles H. Huse took place from the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John H. Huse, 12 James avenue, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Everett E. Jackman, pastor of the Highland Union M. E. church. The house was filled with relatives and friends and the floral offerings were unusually numerous and beautiful. The following delegation was present representing William North lodge, A.P., and M. Harold D. McDonald, Dr. Herbert W. Horne, S.W., Arthur Bartlett, J.W., and Royal K. Dexter, marshal. The bearers were: Earle Huse, John Huse, Vernon Huse, William McDonald, Elmer Swanson and Fernand Nichols. Burial was in the family lot in Westlawn cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

KIDNEY.—The funeral of John Kidney took place yesterday afternoon from the home of Undertakers Peter H. Savage Son Co., and was largely attended. Among those present were relatives and friends from Malden, Hyde Park and Milton. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. John J. McElarry, D.C.L., read the committal service.

BROTHERS.—The funeral of Walter A. Brothers took place yesterday afternoon from the funeral church, 236 Westford street. The services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

ROCHETTE.—The funeral of Marilee Rochette, son of Jules and Marie Louise (Cinquars) Rochette, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 7 Deerfield street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

ORT.—The funeral of Mrs. Annie E. (Cryan) Ort, wife of John J. Ort, and late resident of Lowell, took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from her home, 145 Fletcher street and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including a number from out of town. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where deceased had been a communicant since childhood, and at 9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by Rev. Dr. James A. Supple. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Daniel Reedy, O.S.B., of St. Andrew college, Manchester, N.H., and Rev. John Lyons of Abington, Mass. The choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson rendered the Gregorian chant, and the solos of the mass were sustained by Miss Frances Tighe and Daniel S. O'Brien. Mr. Johnson presided.

Instructions to Ambassador Margerie followed a request of the German reparations for information as to France's attitude in the event of a military coup.

The situation in Germany as seen here, is at best extremely grave. With civil war seemingly at hand, a solution of the reparations question is apparently more remote than ever.

Says Ebert Overthrown

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 9.—A telephone message from Munich this morning says that Adolf Hitler declares that the revolution which started in Germany five years ago, has ended, that the Berlin government and President Ebert have been deposed and that Munich will henceforth be the seat of the imperial government.

France is said to prevail in Munich and the troops are acting with great severity to prevent disorders. The fact that former Crown Prince Rupprecht has not participated in the movement has disappointed the people who regret that their beloved Bavarian dynasty has been left out of the situation.

General opinion here is that civil war in Germany is inevitable, inasmuch as Hitler has announced that his troops will march against Berlin while imperial troops, it is said, are to march against Munich in order to reconquer that "hotbed of reaction."

Gen. Von Seeckt has been appointed commander-in-chief of the troops "to operate against the Bavarians," the dispatch says. All railway traffic has ceased, and the payment of the Reichswehr has been stopped.

War Minister Goessler has forbidden the Berlin newspapers to publish other than official reports regarding Bavarian events.

TWO FOUR-ALARM FIRES SEC. HOOVER'S VIEWS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Two four-alarm fires today enveloped the Washington Union station and a portion of the Capitol grounds in dense smoke and destroyed property valued at many thousands of dollars.

While several companies were struggling with a coffee plant fire an alarm was turned in from a storage house a few blocks away. The second fire was only a short distance from the railway station, and a brisk wind carried thick smoke clouds through the station concourse and along the corridors of the senate office building nearby. Virtually all the city's fire apparatus struggled with the two fires throughout the morning without bringing either completely under control.

ON MERCHANT MARINE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Multiplication of American business houses abroad to import American goods brought to them in American ships is necessary to build up the American merchant marine, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce told the American marine congress at its annual dinner last night.

And to enable the American merchant abroad to do business profitably the United States government, he said, should repeal the tax it levies both on its corporation and private income, which piled on the taxes exacted by the government of the country in which he resides, is forcing him home.

Mr. Hoover pointed out that of American exports the majority is controlled by foreign merchants who buy in this country because the American houses have no selling branches abroad, and of the incoming cargoes the shipping also is dictated by foreign business men who control the merchandise until it is delivered here for the same reason.

TELEPHONE ALARM

A telephone alarm at 9:33 this morning called the fire apparatus to 24 Washington street where a fire was in progress in the cellar of a house occupied by Meyer Buzynsky. Before the fire could be extinguished it had burned through the partition near the chimney and set fire to the wood work in the blind attic. The cellar was completely gutted and considerable damage was done to the attic.

Susceptibility of different varieties of plums to the brown rot disease can now be determined mechanically by measurements of the toughness of the skin and firmness of the flesh of the fruit.

Lady Diana Somerset, beautiful daughter of Duke and Duchess of Beaufort, is recognized as one of the most talented amateur actresses in the tilted set abroad. It is said she is ambitious to go on the stage, but her parents are restraining her.

MYSTERY

Richard Dieters, night telephone operator at a fashionable Brooklyn (N. Y.) club, has disappeared, police were told. His wife (above) has accused a certain prominent clubman of "hounding" her husband. Dieters' coat and hat were found on a bridge, but it is not thought he committed suicide. The clubman questioned denies all knowledge of the disappearance. Below are Dieters' children, Richard, Jr. (left), and Catherine.

HONOR MEMORY OF WORLD WAR HERO

Members of the American Legion auxiliary have been requested to be in attendance at the Memorial Auditorium, Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, to join the members of Lowell post, American Legion, and accompany the post on the march to the park in Belvidere, where the ceremonies in honor of Paul T. Kittredge, veteran of the World war who lost his life in service, will take place.

The end of colonization, it is estimated, will be reached in about 200 years' time.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ADOPT NEW BY-LAWS

The outstanding feature of last night's regular meeting of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, was the adoption after a third reading of the new by-laws of the council. Grand Knight Frank A. Groves presided and a raft of routine business was transacted. Preparations were announced as completed for the "Old Timers' Night" on Nov. 15, and the special committee spoke hopefully of a fine evening's entertainment. The council is to present a pretentious musical comedy at a later date that much was incorporated in a report of the ways and means committee. All signs point to a tuneful and delightful presentation.

Daniel S. O'Brien, chairman of the by-laws committee, presented the report from that committee, comprehensively outlining the various new ideas as contained in the new laws. Many radical changes were noted and with their adoption last night, the report goes to Supreme Advocate Luke Hart for approval. Charles J. Landers presented a set of resolutions on the death of the late supreme physician of the order, Dr. Eugene Buckley, which were unanimously adopted. A committee headed by Edward F. Slattery, Jr., was appointed in conformity with a recommendation from the state deputy, William C. Prout, for the establishment of a debating circle. Luncheon was served after the meeting.

INQUEST ON DEATH OF HIGGINBOTHAM

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—A board of inquest sat at the navy yard today to determine whether Private George H. Higginbotham of the Marine Corps, whose home was in Rogers, Ark., came to his death accidentally or otherwise. He was on guard duty yesterday outside the court martial room of the marine barracks when a pistol shot interrupted the proceedings of the court. Opening the door, officers found the private lying face downward with a pistol at his side. Higginbotham, officers said, had a fine record in the corps.

LOWELL MEN ON RAILROAD FARE COMMITTEE WILL REPRESENT COMMUTERS AND CITIZENS

GEORGE F. WELLS

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Nov. 9.—William A. Osgood of Lowell has been appointed as a member of the committee which will frame the program of protest against the raise of 20 per cent. in commutation tickets on the Massachusetts railroads, at a meeting at the state house at which the protestants organized.

George F. Wells of the Lowell chamber of commerce was offered a position on the committee. He said he was busy for the next two days and would, therefore, be rather useless as a commilleman. He promised, however, to do such work as he could.

The meeting was lively in the extreme, especially when an offer of the minority stockholders of the Boston and Maine of $10,000 to fight the roads in the fare raises was turned down. Jean P. Nickerson, the secretary of the protestants' society, said the protestants will fight without funds so that no one could bring a charge of "grafting" against the members of the opposing forces.

TWO-DAY ANNUAL FAIR AT GRACE CHURCH

The two-day annual church fair, which was opened last evening at the Grace Universalist church with a supper and a fine entertainment program, together with daily decorated booths, proved that the fair will be run on practically as large a proportion as in former years.

At 6.30 o'clock a supper was served by the men of the church under the direction of James Evans, assisted by Ora W. Hardy. During the evening an enjoyable program was carried out, consisting of songs by Mrs. R. Robertson, solo dancing by Miss Jessica Allen and recitations by Miss Virginia Byam. An orchestra under the direction of Miss Margaret Martin played various selections.

The booths and tables, which are always a feature of the fair, were under the direction of the various members of the church: Fancy table, Mrs. Roger Page, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Morrill; gift shop table, Miss A. Edwards, chairman; candy table, Mrs. James Evans, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edward L. Chittes; children's table, Mrs. Charles Cooke, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ora W. Hardy; white elephant table, Mrs. G. Forrest Martin, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Fletcher.

WILL BROADCAST THE MESSAGE OF FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

NOT EASY TO FORGET NATIONAL "FORGET-ME-NOT DAY" TOMORROW WITH THESE PRETTY GIRLS TO REMIND YOU

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Five hundred radio broadcasting stations, throughout the United States, will broadcast the message of "National Forget-Me-Not Day," according to Liaison Officer John E. McCarthy of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, who is here making preparations for the local observance of "Forget-Me-Not Day" to be conducted throughout the country on Saturday, Nov. 10. Prominent government, state and civic officials will speak over the radio broadcasters in advance of Nov. 10, declared McCarthy yesterday, and all of them will spread the gospel of "Forget-Me-Not Day," pointing out to an audience of ten million or more people the necessity of supporting the drive to the maximum limit of generosity. The entire proceeds of the day are to go to the local, regional and national welfare, relief and rehabilitation assistance of the nation's wounded and disabled veterans of the great war.

Tomorrow, Saturday, Nov. 10, many thousands of pretty girls and women will distribute the little forget-me-not flowers to the public. Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, War Mothers, Gold Star Mothers and other organizations will help in the great nation-wide sale of the flowers. The coming observance will mark the third annual "Forget-Me-Not Day" campaign throughout the United States. The Central Trust Co. of Cincinnati, O., is national treasurer of the committee, and banks in the various communities where the drive is to be held will serve as local treasurers for the "Forget-Me-Not Day" committee.

Thomas J. Travers is chairman of the Lowell "Forget-Me-Not" committee.

JUVENILES PLACED ON PROBATION

Theodore Urbanski, 14, and Walter Maslawka, 15, the youths who were apprehended in Jersey City and taken back to this city last Monday, were given suspended sentences to the Lyman and Shirley schools, respectively, in the juvenile court this morning.

Urbanski was charged with stealing $230 from his father, and Maslawka with being a stubborn child. They left this city over a week ago, and when they got as far as Fall River, they purchased two bicycles and pedaled the remainder of the distance to New Jersey.

Officer Clancy brought them back to this city.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity. Prevents Food Fermentation. Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, dews and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bismarck Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bismarck Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drugstore in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bismarck Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and, moreover, the continued use of the Bismarck Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. ## PERSONALITY is Strengthened by Good Clothes

Men of bearing, that well dressed man you cannot help but notice, has his clothes made to measure. How you have your clothes made and the pattern you select is a big factor these days when appearances count so much. When you buy a ready-made garment you have a suit and that's all. Your individuality is not built into it, little details are not taken care of and you are in the ordinary class. There is real wisdom in having your clothes made-to-measure.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Today's menu at the B. F. Keith Theatre will be "Come into the Kitchen," a farce, with Robert Fischer & Co. playing it in front position. It is a fast proposition from beginning to end, and it is admirably played by one of the most competent companies seen at the theatre during the present season. Rowland & McLean, in their mélange of golf and Irish humor, are certainly close to the top. They manufacture laughs every minute they are on deck. Theda Bara, the wizard in writing, is an entirely new product. Her work is most favorably commented on. Dwyer & Orma in eccentric comedy talk and in style make a droll pair, while Nuttall Lippard, the singer, gives plenty of variety. The opening turn is by the Monroe Bros. "Is Conan Doyle Right?" an expose of fake mediums, and "The Rapids," are the picture features of the week.

RIALTO THEATRE

Large audiences at the Rialto theatre were unanimous in their praise of the Thomas Ince production, "Lying Lips," which opened that theatre yesterday. It is a strong and powerful drama of present day life among the rich society folk. House Peters and Florence Vidor are the leading roles and it can truthfully be said that neither of these brilliant stars have ever been seen to better advantage. They are both called upon to do some real acting and it is then they show why they are real stars.

"The Fighting Grin," a fast moving, semi-western picture, with Franklyn Farnum, is the second feature and for his kind is an unusually clever film. Farnum, in the second feature and for

TO INCREASE EFFICIENCY IN VETERANS' BUREAU

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A thorough study of the organization and methods of the veterans' bureau with a view to obtaining increased efficiency in operation is being made by the senate investigating committee, currently with its probe into the past record of the bureau.

During adjournment of the hearings, until Monday, the committee members and counsel conferred at length yesterday on the present system and methods of the bureau in filling its obligations to the disabled veterans.

In connection with the conference, John P. O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee, said it was giving very earnest attention to this side of the matter, recognizing that it even more directly affects the welfare of disabled veterans than the record of "waste and dishonesty" in the bureau which he said the hearings had developed.

KLAN DEFEATED IN MEMPHIS ELECTION

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 8.—The Ku Klux Klan suffered defeat in yesterday's municipal election when the present city commission, including the mayor and four commissioners, was returned to power for a four year period.

Mayor Rowland Paine was re-elected with a majority of approximately 2500 votes. W. Joe Wood, who had the endorsement of the Klan, ran second, while Lewis T. Fitzhugh, an avowed opponent of the Klan, trailed.

The unofficial vote, as tabulated by the Commercial Appeal, gave Paine 12,409; Wood 7815, and Fitzhugh 2947.

Candidates on the Klan ticket were also second in the race for commissioner with the Fitzhugh ticket third.

While Armistice day comes on Sunday, it will be observed the following day and although not a local holiday, it will be celebrated to some degree. Tom Carey's celebrated orchestra has gained an enviable reputation in musical circles and has played at several of the well known summer resorts along the south shore. Carey and his troupe have appeared in Lowell on previous occasions and made a most favorable impression. This event should prove a knockout with the dancers of Lowell. Saturday night, "Mal" Hallett's and Almer-Dorley's orchestras have at it again in a battle of music with all the latest New York dance hits.

IF KIDNEYS BOTHER TRY DOSE OF SALTS

Drink Quart of Water if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

HISTORY OF LOCAL BANKS

Bank Treasurer E. B. Carney
Addresses Lowell Life Underwriters' Association

Mr. Edward B. Carney, treasurer of the Lowell Institution for Savings, yesterday afternoon made an address at the regular monthly meeting of the Lowell Life Underwriters. Mr. Carney's address was both historical and instructive in its nature.

Referring to the beginning of savings institutions in this country, Mr. Carney said that after the close of the war of 1812, the government of the United States decided that it would take progressive steps to foster manufacturing throughout the country, in order that as a people might not only produce at manufacture the goods which the population needed, appointed a commission of engineers to make a survey of the water power sites throughout the country that could be used for manufacturing purposes. Among other cities listed, surveyed and approved by them in this vicinity were Waltham, Lawrence and Lowell. This was on or about the year 1815, and in 1822 the Merrimack Manufacturing Company started operations in Lowell. This was established the first manufacturing plant in a city which rapidly developed into one of the greatest textile manufacturing cities of this country, namely, our own city of Lowell.

The establishment of the textile industry naturally offered employment to many and as a sequence there was a demand for some sort of a bank where the savings of the operatives could be deposited. In the year 1829 the first bank was established in Lowell, namely, the Old Lowell National Bank, quickly followed by the establishment of the first savings bank, the Lowell Institution for Savings in 1829. The latter was called an institution for savings as in those days the term savings bank had not been adopted. All of the early banks established for the deposit of the savings of the people were called institutions for savings. These institutions for savings for many years were the only banks of their kind and they grew in the confidence of the people and performed a service which has continued throughout many generations to be availed of by the vast bulk of the population for the deposit of such sums of money over and above the needs of the people as could be laid by in a savings fund.

Later on in 1850 the Five Cents Savings banks were established. The institutions for savings required the opening of an account with a deposit for $1. As there were many people who desired to open an account for even a smaller amount, there gradually came to be a demand for what afterwards became the Five Cents Savings bank. Today both the institutions for savings and the Five Cents Savings bank operate on practically the same basis, both accepting deposits of less than $1 from all who apply for a deposit book.

From the very beginning one of the cardinal principles of savings institutions was to offer the service of a savings depository to the people and the safety of the deposit was the first consideration and consequently the law guarded the form of investment in which the savings institutions could put the depositors' money. The principle of safety as inculcated in the early days applies with as great force and effect today as ever.

Yet these deposits do earn for the depositors substantial rates of interest and there being no stockholders whatever in the institutions for savings (being purely mutual savings) all the earnings above the small cost of conducting the bank are available for distribution in the form of dividends to the depositors. There is an exception of a certain amount, however, which the state has required shall be set aside as a guarantee fund and this guarantee fund must be a per cent and may be no more than 10 1/2 per cent of the deposits. Those banks which have already a sufficient guarantee fund and which are mutual banks are thereby enabled to distribute all their earnings above the cost of operating the bank in dividends to the depositors.

Mr. Carney emphasized the great desire of the institutions for savings and the savings bank to co-operate with all agencies for thrift and saving in the community. He pointed out that the cost of running a savings bank, like the Lowell Institution for Savings, for example, whose deposits had now reached the sum of approximately $12,000,000, was less than one-half per cent of the sum of the bank's assets and although the bank served 16,000 depositors, the number of people employed to do so was only seven and consequently the service rendered in this very large number.

History of Local Banks

ber of people was at comparatively nominal expense.

Referring to the recent splendid report of the savings banks as rendered to the department of banking, Mr. Carney said an interesting feature of the matter was 80 per cent of the gain in savings was made from January to about June, 1923. A development in the savings bank service to the community has been in the establishment of dime savings schemes in various forms. His bank, for instance, issued a folder which contained compartments in which might be deposited ten cent pieces to the number of 30. These then were to be brought to the bank and a book issued to the new depositor.

Christmas Savings clubs have been organized by the savings banks in many cases. This form of savings appeals to a great many and he noted that while the average savings bank depositor made his deposits at irregular intervals, it was possible and had been demonstrated by means of the Christmas club idea to secure depositors who would make their deposits at regular intervals, for instance, weekly. It appeared that there was something in the obligation which the depositor made himself which caused him to carry out the idea of weekly savings, were ordinarily deposits would be made at irregular intervals.

Mr. Carney also noticed in this connection that when these Christmas savings had matured, that about 20 per cent of them re-deposited their Christmas club check in the savings bank and thus increased their fund for the "rainy day." The habit of thrift formed through constant systematic savings is of incalculable benefit not only to the individual himself but to the community and every bank does every thing possible that it can do in every way to encourage saving. Their principal object is to secure deposits and to induce the accumulation of a fund, the individual may find of service to him when the "rainy day" arrives.

In furtherance of this idea to encourage savings and as a supplement of the existing inducements and solely with that idea of securing savings deposits in mind, six of the savings banks in Massachusetts have availed themselves of the privilege accorded them by legislation in 1908 to write policies of life insurance, the premiums on which are deposited in monthly payments

These six banks have the privilege of establishing any number of branches and the Lowell Institution for Savings is a branch agency for each of the six banks in this city. The principal idea is to secure deposits and to offer in conjunction therewith a life insurance policy which will at the end of a given period of time mature and which will be paid with the deposits of the depositor. The insurance policy is also paid in full in the event of the death of the depositor after the policy is issued and the first monthly premium payment made.

Mr. Carney said that he was glad of the privilege of meeting the Lowell life underwriters and to talk with them, as he realized that they, too, were engaged in a similar service of promoting thrift in the community and were rendering a valuable service in calling at the homes of people in the case of weekly premium insurance and in inculcating the doctrine of thrift by direct personal contact.

Although no reference was made of the fact by Mr. Carney to those who were present at the meeting, they realized that they were listening to the grandson of the man who organized the first commercial bank in Lowell in 1823 and the first institutions for savings in Lowell in 1829, namely, James G. Carney, first treasurer both of the Old Lowell National bank and of the Lowell Institution for Savings.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Carney at the conclusion of his address. At this meeting of the underwriters an election of officers for the ensuing year took place and the following are the board of officers for the new year:

President, James P. Heron; vice president, Daniel B. Bunn; Clifford O. Leadbetter, secretary-treasurer, M. J. Brady; executive committee officers of the association, ex-officio, John McFadden, George H. Spillane, Deputy Supt. Nealon,

TURNIPS
Use the homely root vegetables provided by nature for winter instead of demanding shipped, out-of-season delicacies.
Of course if turnips and parsnips are carrots—are simply boiled and thrown on the table with an eat-me-if-you-must attitude the family will more than likely become difficult and unmanageable and the poor turnips will be so much waste.

But if the same care and interest goes into the dish of carrots that went into the hot-house asparagus you will have just as delectable a vegetable.

JUST AN IDEA

WAS CORDIALLY GREETED IN SOMERVILLE

Deputy Grand Chancellor Elmer D. Robinson of this city made his first official visitation to Arcadia lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Somerville, Wednesday evening and received a most cordial fraternal greeting. He was accompanied by a suite composed of Past Chancellor Edward R. Watts, Past Chancellor John A. Lamberton and Prelate Thomas R. Atkinson of Chevalier-Middlesex lodge. The rank of knight was exemplified in long form, after which brief addresses were made by the members of the Lowell delegation.

Deputy Grand Chancellor Robinson called the attention of the Somerville brethren to the fact that the motto of the Massachusetts domain for the present year is the Golden Rule, and he urged K.P.'s to exemplify it in their daily relations. Pythianism is not confined to the castle alone, he said, but should be a part of our every day life. The shortcomings of our brethren should be viewed in the spirit of Pythian charity, and we should rally stomach and make up your mind not to overeat again. Don't forget the little scissors, some safety pins and a ball of twine. Do it at once and practice safety first.

To their assistance in their hour of distress. He urged the members to work for a healthy growth of their lodge, but ever to maintain Pythian standards in that growth. Don't increase your membership by sacrificing those standards, he urged.

There was a large attendance of the Somerville members, as well as knights from Medford and Cambridge. Past Grand Chancellor Clifford E. Jones and Grand Master of Excelsior William P. Hoar were also present. A collation was served at the close of the meeting.

THE EMERGENCY KIT

Prevention is the watchword in all ranks of health seekers. An emergency kit, home doctor or first aid outfit is a blessing. But a little advice on using it may be of help.

Cuts, scratches or bruises, lame

arms or sunburned shoulders may call for a little help and if you try to be too strenuous and overdo "the thing" you may have to take care of a severe case of fatigue or fainting. "Sick stomach," from overeating, is also down on the program and a summer cold may come your way unsought. This is about all unless you have a more severe case to attend to, such as a bad cut or wound which may require the use of a tourniquet.

For one kit:
One-half ounce tincture of iodine in a strong bottle, to be applied on cuts or wounds by means of a small swab made from a small stick and a tuft of cotton. Two-ounce carton of absorbent cotton. A spool of zinc oxide adhesive tape, one-inch wide. A large collapsible tube of plain petrolatum or zinc oxide or plain boric acid ointment. Any abrasure or burn from heat or acid or friction should be smeared with ointment and protected by small pieces of gauze held in place by tape.

Five or ten yards of bandages are also necessary, and are helpful in many ways. Also put in your kit a small vial of aromatic spirits of ammonia. A teaspoonful in two ounces of water (about one inch in a common drinking glass) is a good stimulant for fainting, nervous shock or collapse.

Use a sedlitz powder for your sick

PROBE KILLING OF KLAN ATTORNEY AT ATLANTA

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 8.—With accusations made by Joseph Simmons, emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, that Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the order, "remains in hiding," and the announcement from Indianapolis that Wizard Evans will address a Klan meeting at Fort Wayne, Ind., tomorrow, those interested in Klan affairs await with interest a statement regarding the killing of W. E. Coburn, Klan attorney which Milton Elrod, editor of the Fiery Cross, a Klan publication, announced Wizard Evans would make at Fort Wayne. Elrod's statement last night denied Emperor Simmons' charges and declared Wizard Evans had been in conference with Klan officials in the east. Emperor Simmons declared that newspaperman and klansmen were "unable to find any responsible head at palace headquarters willing to meet those entitled to information. Continuation of the investigation of the killing of Coburn by P. E. Fox, Klan publicity man, and the proceeding with defense work by Mrs. Fox, marks the only development since the indictment of Fox on a charge of murder. He refuses to talk, and the motive for the killing remains unknown. The prosecution has announced the trial probably will begin next week.

AMERICAN LEGION BALL

Grand Military Concert and Ball Under Auspices of Lowell Post

All roads lead to Memorial Auditorium tonight, the drawing card being the second grand military concert and ball arranged under the energetic auspices of Lowell post, American Legion.

The advance sales of tickets, the eager interest created by wide advertising of the coming event and assurances received by the general committee of arrangements that distinguished soldiers of the old line and the new, with numerous city, county and state officials, will be present to lend support to the evening's attractive event always of close public interest.

Commander

Indicates an attendance of Legionnaires and friends that may tax the capacity of the new Auditorium.

Luxurious decorations installed in grand foyer and main auditorium and also in the Veterans' quarters by expert decorators are now in place. The Auditorium has been transformed into a formal ballroom made more beautiful by numerous displays of American flags in effective drapings. The balcony front is partly hidden by long ropes of evergreen, triple festoons of flags and banks of flowers of many hues.

The upper walls of the Auditorium are brilliantly alight with flags draped in half-circle style, with a large national emblem dropping in the center of each festoon. The orchestral platform is hidden by a three-foot bank of evergreen and laurel, neatly checkered on the front mass with roses and other floral products.

Special lighting effects have also been installed, which will add to the beauty of the scene tonight when the legion guests arrive to participate in the second annual veterans' social function. Dr. Joseph L. Kearney is the head of the committee on decorations and had direct charge of both the Auditorium and Liberty hall entrance decorations.

Lowell post members will entertain many prominent guests tonight. Invitations have been sent to Governor Channing Cox, Lieut. Gov. Alvan F. Fuller, Congressman John Joseph Rogers and Commander Edwards of the state legion headquarters. Senior Vice Commander George of Cambridge has promised to be present, and numerous commanders and members of other local military organizations and veterans' posts in city and county, as well as well known city and civil guests, have promised to be on hand and partake of Lowell American Legion hospitality.

At 10 p.m. play throughout the evening, with a full complement of musicians. The special catering service for refreshments will be continued throughout the evening.

As was the case last year, this year's military event will be formal, and there will be a shining array of full dress uniforms in evidence when the grand march starts.

Commander Joseph A. Molloy of Lowell post has handled efficiently many of the committee activities leading up to tonight's second observance of Armistice day. He has had a vigorous working personnel on every hand and acknowledges the public's deep interest in the success of the coming social function. Tickets for the event have sold rapidly all over the city and county.

The legionnaires on the military ball general committees are as follows:

General manager, Joseph A. Molloy; assistant general managers, Colin Macdonald and George McCarthy; treasurer, Joseph M. Dinneen; adjutant, Robert J. Rutledge; floor mar-

Home Made
Cough Mixture
Considered Best

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes,
Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly

Costs But a Trifle

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Cough, croup, or common cough, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

It's fine for chest colds too and for bronchitis and catarrh.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Boron (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint. That's all there is to it and children like it.

Take a soothing, healing medicine one ounce to one almost instantly. No ordinary store-bought cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

And remember—any remedy that over-keeps the throat, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head colds and catarrh of the throat.

Get permanent and get better. Adv.

The other day he visited the dental clinic to let two co-eds give him teeth the once over. And Marie Preston, left, and Rhea Hart, who performed the examination, say he didn't growl a bit.

J. HENRY FAGAN, D. D. S.:

Dear Doctor—It is with pleasure I write of the satisfaction of the work which I recently had done by you. ## Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause. Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Lombard was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROD is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Lombard tried it in 100 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold under special money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROD from Green's drug store today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails. Adv.

"The Tanlac treatment is good in the fullest sense of the word," is the concise manner in which P. M. Hubbard, 312 Cameron street, Alexandria, Va., a clerk in the war department, Washington, D. C., recently spoke of his experience with the medicine.

"For more than a year past I have suffered from a nervous, run-down condition. My digestive organs did not work right, I had little appetite and what I did eat failed to give me proper nourishment. My rest at night was broken, my nerves unstrung, I was considerably under weight, had lost much energy and always felt more or less fatigued out."

"I bought Tanlac on the advice of a friend and can say that it fully met my needs in every way. I now feel stronger and better by far than I have in months. I eat well and sleep well, have gained in weight and energy and feel renewed in every way."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 27 million bottles sold.

FORECAST FOR 1924 ANOTHER PERIOD OF RECORD-BREAKING FREIGHT TRAFFIC

NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (By the Associated Press).—Forecasting for 1924 another period of such record-breaking freight traffic as the United States has experienced in the year just passing, two national organizations of executives of the foremost railroads yesterday adopted an ambitious program of financial and physical expansion in the next 12 months.

The program, drawn yesterday by the board of directors of the American Railway association of 240 roads, was approved by the full membership in session at the Yale club this morning and later by heads of the 184 class I roads which comprise the Association of Railway Executives.

It contemplates the aggregate expenditure—exclusive of what appropriations may be contained in the 1924 budgets—of $248,891,000 already authorized for new locomotives, cars and equipments. This would bring total capital expenditures of Class I roads since 1922 to $1,722,518,526—a high precedent in the history of American transportation for any similar period.

Although the program did not specify the total capital expenditures for 1924 that might be written in the budgets of individual roads, it expressed complete satisfaction with the reports of the billion and a half dollar plan for expansion embarked upon last spring. The goals set then had been nearly attained; many traffic records had been smashed to carry the freight of an era of industrial prosperity; such new equipment had been acquired, and old equipment restored to service; car shortages had been few; traffic congestions rare and embargoes almost eliminated.

All these accomplishments the A.R.A. and the A.R.E. pointed out in adopting the program today were due principally to a new spirit of unity between the railroads and of co-operation between the roads and the public. The program for 1924 is a bid for further expansion toward the goal of maximum efficiency, accompanied by micro perfect team work between the roads, their patrons, and the general public. The roads pledged themselves to:

Continued intensive effort to reduce the percentage of locomotives and cars awaiting repairs and maintain it at the lowest possible minimum consistent with the volume of business offered and the revenues the roads are permitted to earn.

Increased supervision by the roads and greater co-operation with shippers to attain fuller utilization of car capacity.

Continued intensive effort to increase the average daily movement per freight car, and to set new records for prompt movement of traffic.

Thorough consideration of the possibilities of a more extensive interchange of joint facilities.

Continued complete co-operation of the roads through the car service division of the American Railway Association, which provides a central control and distribution of freight cars between various railroads and territories.

Active support to all phases of the work of regional shippers' advisory boards of road executives and customers organized to solve mutual traffic problems.

Accompanying the program approved was the following resolution which also was passed by both of the railroad associations:

"Calling attention to the large capital expenditures made in 1923 for equipment and other transportation facilities, almost entirely from borrowed money, and to the necessity in the public interest of the continuing of similar expenditures in the future if the needs of the constantly growing commerce of the country are to be met, the railroads reaffirm their faith that the American people, the agencies of the government, state and nation, who have the final voice in controlling railroad revenues and expenses, recognize that the continuation of an adequate program for transportation service depends upon such net income to the railroads as will permit a fair return upon the property now devoted to the public service, and will make it possible to secure new capital which is imperatively needed.

"Notwithstanding the unprecedented volume of traffic successfully handled this year, the railroads have earned not even the moderate net return contemplated."

meeting of alleged anti-Fascists in this city, if it is a possible thing. Reports that campaign speakers representing the "Anti-Fascist Alliance of North America" were endeavoring to hire a hall in Lowell for a meeting next Sunday, have aroused local labor union representatives, who declare that organization is entirely communistic or socialist with a Bolshevik label.

Officials of the trades and labor council have been making a rigid inquiry into the movement of the anti-Fascists and found that a local hall had been practically engaged for a socialistic rally next Sunday. Labor representatives visited the owner of the hall and explained the object of the coming meeting. The hall will not be opened Sunday for the use of the organization protested.

The trades and labor council, in a formal statement, declares that American workmen will not deal with the Fascist movement and denounces the campaign to organize such groups in this country as evidence of hostility to democratic institutions.

Labor representatives opposed to the holding of any such gatherings in Lowell by groups of men bent upon spreading the doctrines of communism under strange-sounding labels, declared today that it has always been the policy of the American Federation of Labor to oppose all forms of ultra-radicalism in dealing with both the workers and capitalist groups, and for that reason they feel that any such meeting arranged to spread the doctrines of either the Fascist or the anti-Fascist organizations would be harmful to public peace and prosperity and should be prevented by properly constituted authorities.

STRIKING R. R. MEN REFUSE TO YIELD

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 9.—Striking firemen and engineers on the Virginian railway, who gave no indication today of yielding in their dispute with the company, which resulted in the walkout yesterday, face permanent dismissal from service unless they report for duty by 6 a. m. tomorrow. This ultimatum was issued by C. H. Hix, vice president, last night, to the strikers whose number was estimated by railroad officials as between 400 and 500, or about two-thirds of the company's engine crew.

Hix said the railroad labor board, which had ordered the men to delay action in the dispute over the discharge of several employees pending a hearing before it, Nov. 14, had authorized him to do anything necessary to continue operation of the road.

In Great Britain the women exceed the men by nearly 2,000,000.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. # HARVARD-PRINCETON CLASH FEATURE OF FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

LOWELL HIGH EXPECTS TO GIVE HAVERHILL HARD BATTLE ARMISTICE DAY

"Fight, Fight, Fight for Lowell High!" is the battle cry of the football representatives and the general student-body of the local high school as the season's big game with Haverhill high next Monday afternoon approaches. Enthusiasm among the students is at a high pitch. The corridors of the high school are decorated with slogans and several hundred tickets for the game have been disposed of.

The coaches feel that Lowell's backfield is fully as strong as Haverhill's, now that Taplin has been shifted behind the line. Gibbons, Calkins and Casey will fill the halfback positions and Capt. Sheehan will be seen at quarterback. The latter played a superb game against Concord high last Saturday and appears to have rounded out into his old-time form.

Lowell's line, with Honan, O'Neill, Barron, Ryan, Herron, Higgins, Sullivan, and Caravaggio, Kosciolk, Sharkey and other stars, promises to make Haverhill work hard for openings.

Higgins, who has been playing at right guard in most of the games this season, is one of the best boys in the local line. He knows how to protect his position from invasion and is a giant for strength, as well as a bear for tripping up the opposition.

SOMEBODY IS JOSHING THE DRIVING CLUB

The mysterious "Mr. Hobart of Lowell" track familiarly known with the exception of the leading officers of the Lowell Driving Club, who say that "Mr. Hobart of Lowell" is a member of the purest quality and not worth talking about.

Somebody has been writing to Frank Trot, Boston horse editor, charitably sampling out strange tidings that the future prospects of the Lowell Driving Club. The Trot weekly columns of horse items have more than once contained alleged news items from Lowell, and it is being generally signed by someone who used names never heard of in these parts, let alone local horse circles.

When the odd names appeared lacking on to missives suggesting how Lowell track enthusiasts might improve conditions by going outside the local boundaries and buying land for a new race course, they created comment down in the Middlesex street clubroom circles. "A. L. Pettit" was signed to one letter, containing methods of running horse races at Golden Cove and offering suggestions in line with a new deal all around.

Last Monday morning in the Trot columns appeared more fulsome criticism about the Lowell race track situation, with the name of "P. J. Hobart" signed to this one. Not a member of the local club knows a "P. J. Hobart". There are one or two others in town, but no "P. J.". The driving club met informally last Tuesday evening, and those present swore they think someone is kidding them.

Some of the members think they know who is putting over the anonymous stuff outside publications, evidently aiming to stir up trouble in local club circles. The latest yarn is issued by the mysterious "P. J." is to the effect that land has already been selected for a new trotting park for the Lowell driving club—about three-eighths of a mile in area, so the story reads—and that Campi gave him a barn door or as good as a well. It was close, very close.

The semi-final was a great fight, in fact it was a more vigorous and slashing bout than the main event. Eddie Campi of Lynn and Young Mike Travers of New Bedford were the principals. They were a strenuous pair. The veteran Campi led at the very start, but in the early rounds and launched a terrific attack. Travers showed remarkable gameness and assimilative powers and took all that Campi gave and returned for more. But in the closing rounds Travers rallied and he stepped to the front with a slashing array of hooks and jabs. He got Campi in the quarter and stood in there on to and swamped heavy punches. Campi's early lead, however, was too formidable to overcome and the decision in his favor was correct. Travers greeted it with jeers. Travers' hurricane finish brought him a host of admirers and he left the ring amid great applause.

There was but one preliminary, the other one being omitted because one of the boys scheduled to perform failed to show up. The one that was provided also had been scratched, and no one would have missed it. It lasted less than a round. Buddy Dolan, one of the principals, was out of condition and he got into picking for Willie Rose of Montreal.

It was announced that Abe Friedmann of Boston and Johnny Sheppard of Woburn will appear in the main event next week at Century Hall, former national amateur flyweight champion, will make his professional debut in the semi-final.

Football Facts

BY BILLY EVANS

THE QUESTION
The football coach is not satisfied with the way the player calling the signals is selecting his plays. At a certain critical stage of the game, desiring certain plays to be tried he sends in another player to do the calling of signals. The new player sent into the game does not substitute for the player who has been calling signals, as the coach player withdraws from the game, even though the right to call the signals is to be vested in another player. Is it possible for a player to send in the game by the coach to immediately take up the work of calling the signals after reporting to the proper official? It so happens that he is sent into the game on the fourth down and the question as to what course to pursue is debatable.

THE ANSWER
A player may be substituted for another at any time. He must immediately report to the referee or umpire. When a player is substituted he must not communicate in any way with any of the players on the field until after the ball has been put into play. When a player is sent into the game to give signals and the man who has been giving them is not reported to the official, this is a foul. When a player is given by the player who was the original selection for that duty and who still continues in the game. The idea of sending a new player in to give the signals for a certain play at a critical stage of the game. One play must elapse before such a player can take up his duties as the caller of signals.

AS TO PENALTIES
Failure of a substitute to report to the proper official carries with it the penalty of a loss of five yards. If a player is sent into the game during the second half may not return to the game. If a player illegally returns and is discovered, the player shall be suspended from the game and his team loses half the distance to the goal from the spot of the down where the illegal substitution was made. If a player illegally substitutes takes part in a number of plays before the error is discovered, the penalty shall be enforced from the spot where it was discovered.

THOMAS WINS OVER CURRY

New Bedford Boy Gets Decision Over New Yorker in Closely Contested Bout

Campi Beats Young Travers in Good Semi-Final—Friedman to Meet Sheppard

Tony Thomas, of New Bedford was awarded the decision over Frankie Curry, of New York in the main event of the Moody club show in Crescent rink last night. The fight was hard fought and very closely contested. The margin of victory was not as wide as the local club knows a "P. J. Hobart". There are one or two others in town, but no "P. J.". The driving club met informally last Tuesday evening, and those present swore they think someone is kidding them.

As the bout progressed the batters brought into play every maneuver of the game. Once in the early part of the fight Thomas hit Curry with the latter had one knee on the floor and later he employed the back hand blow. The referee cautioned him and neither stunt was repeated.

The bout was well contested and while Thomas had the advantage and was clearly entitled to the award his margin of victory was not as wide as a barn door or as good as a well. It was close, very close.

The semi-final was a great fight, in fact it was a more vigorous and slashing bout than the main event. Eddie Campi of Lynn and Young Mike Travers of New Bedford were the principals. ## SOUTHPAW PENNOKK SAVED YANKS

BY BILLY EVANS

Pitching dominated the 1923 world series. The Yankees got all of it. The Giants' most of the exception of Nantz's work. Pitching was the deciding margin, the edge of victory. Who did the best pitching for the Yankees? How Bush was wonderful. Never during the season did Bush show more stuff than in the classic. In addition he put much thought into every ball pitched. When Bush had control of his fork ball, he is a hard man to beat. The fork ball is a freak delivery, the ball being held between two fingers on the pitching hand. The ball takes a peculiar break. Bush was master of the fork ball in the world series.

Lost Tough Game
Then there was Sad Sam Jones who allowed only four hits in the game he worked, yet lost 1 to 10. The ball he lost was a foul ball. When he was hit inside was lifted into the right field bleachers at the Yankee Stadium. It just cleared the playing field and hit by a score margin. Jones had intended to keep that slow curve outside. His control momentarily failed him. Just as did the control of Mathewson when pitching in the eighth. The ball was lifted into the right field bleachers in that game. Likewise it defeated Jones.

To my way of thinking, however, Pennock was the outstanding star. The added pitching strength the Yankees needed to win over the Giants. After the game had won the first game, it made right in the bases. The expert was pitching another real of the American leaguers, then along came Pennock. He pitched the Yankees to a great game, unquestionably it was the turning point in the series.

Pennock Saved Series
Pennock, who is a frail southpaw with far more courage than strength, with only a day's rest was called upon to save the Yankees. He took considerable rest out of time. Then with only one day's rest, Pennock needs four, he was called upon for the sixth and what proved to be the deciding game.

LANDIS OUT OF CONTROVERSIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Commissioner Keneas W. Landis will take no part in controversies that may arise during the joint major-minor league baseball meeting here next month, he has announced. The draft question may be taken up, but if any difficulties result, it will be the business of the personnel, Judge Landis said.

Nearly every club in organized baseball is expected to be represented at the meeting. According to Commissioner Landis, there are more than 200 minor leagues operating. It is expected that upwards of 3000 club owners, players and managers will attend.

It may sound strange, but the work of Pennock in the sixth game was a pitching of the series to my way of thinking. He was in trouble from the very start. The Giants pecked away at him in every inning. Runners were always on the bases. Lack of proper rest seemed to have robbed him of much of his stuff. A less courageous pitcher would have grown careless and the Giants would have probably made a dozen runs. Not Pennock. He worked carefully on every batter just as if he were facing the series for the first time. He was moving the Giants down in the eighth and victory. Pennock's work richly deserved it.

THOUSANDS OF FOOTBALL FANS TO PACK PARKS AND PLAYING FIELDS IN EAST TOMORROW

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (by the Associated Press).—Although the eastern football schedule for Saturday, does not list a meeting of undefeated teams, there will be no dearth of engagements between powerful football rivals and drilling contests, with the possible exception of the game between Harvard and Princeton, which will pack the parks and playing fields. In general interest, the annual meeting of Harvard and Princeton, opening the yearly series among the so-called big three universities, outranks all others, but engagements involving three of the five remaining undefeated teams of this section will be followed with almost equal concern. In each instance opponents of demonstrated or potential strength will face them. Cornell, regarded by many as the most powerful array in the east, has Columbia as its opponent, and although the Columbia record is not as impressive as that of Cornell, it is coached by Percy Haughton, an acknowledged master of football play, who has made a study of the Harvard offensive tactics and has prepared special defenses to meet them. How successful his defensive plan will prove remains for the game to disclose, but many believe the Harvard are in for a much more difficult engagement than they expect. The teams meet for the 11th time in their football relations, Cornell having been victorious in seven of the past engagements and Columbia in three.

LOCAL FOOTBALL FIELDS WILL BE SCENE OF GREAT ACTIVITY ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

TEXTILE TO PLAY PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

Lowell Textile football squad went through its last practice session on the campus this afternoon in preparation for the game with Providence college at Providence tomorrow. The team shaped up well, especially in forward passing, an attack which may be the key to their success against the Providence men.

Lowell will enter tomorrow's game with a determination to atone for a defeat at Providence last week. The first-string men will start the game, while the substitutes will be ready at a minute's notice in case of an accident. The squad leaves this city tomorrow morning by auto.

BELVIDERES WILL JOURNEY TO LAWRENCE

The Belvideres have been practicing out of Lawrence at O'Sullivan park in the down-river city next Sunday afternoon. The team last week handed the O.M.I. Cadets their first licking of the season and boast of a powerful eleven. Many Lowell fans will accompany the Belvideres to the scene of action.

The Belvideres have been practicing all week in the high school annex and they are in tip top form for the battle.

The Belvideres are confident that they will win Saturday and plan to issue a challenge to the O.M.I. Cadets for a championship game.

O. M. I. CADETS VS. C. Y. M. A.

Next Sunday afternoon on the North common, the O.M.I. Cadets will play the strong C.Y.M.A. team of Lawrence, one of the finest teams in the state. A few weeks ago, the C.Y.M.A. eleven played the Cadets to a scoreless tie on the Fair grounds and have been clamoring for a return engagement ever since. Tomorrow's game was arranged between the halves of the Cadet-Tremont game at O'Sullivan park last Sunday.

Followers of the Cadets may expect a number of new plays next Sunday. Several trick formations have been tried successfully in practice and will be presented in an actual game for the first time against the Lawrence invaders. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

FOOTBALL GAME INJURIES FATAL

Following injuries received in the football game between Lowell Textile and the University of New Hampshire at Durham, N. H., last Saturday, Leonard P. Stearns, aged 22 years, a tackle on the New Hampshire team, died at a hospital in Belmont yesterday.

Leonard played a great game at tackle Saturday, opening the Textile line on several occasions for off tackle runs. Towards the end of the game he complained of severe pains in the abdomen and was taken out of the game. His sister brought him to her home in Swampscott after the game and as his condition grew steadily worse, he was taken to the hospital where he died.

No Form, Yet They Are Champions

JOHNNY DUNDEE

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Of course, it's best to have "form." Willie Hoppe has it in billiards and is a master. Bobby Jones has it in golf and is called America's most notable contributor to the sport. No ball player ever had better form than Nap Lajoie in field or at bat. Lajoie will always rank with the immortals.

So if you play your favorite sport according to Hoppe-meeting the demands of a specific technique—you are on the right track.

If you don't—well, maybe you are on the right track anyway.

No matter how bad your form, off the tee than Ted Lias, the giant Brit, who won the American open championship at Toledo in 1920. He ore at the ball with a lash and smash that was startling. At the end of his swing he would be teetering perilously on the tip of his left toe. You expected to see him go tumbling to the earth, but on his expansive back. But he didn't. His drives sailed through the air with tremendous force and unwavering accuracy. No other player drove better, or as far. Yet he was utterly without form, as form is known in golf.

Form in the Ring

You are supposed to respect the technique of form in the prize ring. Most all the champions have been finished performers in this respect. Jim Corbett had beautiful form, and set the style for Americans. Alvin Karpis, Willie Lewis, Paucy McFarland, Mike Gibbons, Jack Britton and Johnnie Kilbane were interesting performers in action. Next, punchers, det blockers, flashy foot-workers. They did their work well—and properly.

Form is not without its enthusiastic supporters in the ring today. You will travel long and circuitous road before you find a more ferocious boxer than Benny Leonard, and as a biter, Jack Dempsey has matched form. We never saw a fighter who could get more power behind a short blow. You never hear that Dempsey has hurt his hands. That's proof of his correct hitting form.

Now for the boys who have no form at all and yet are on top. Johnny Dundee is the featherweight champion of the world. Dundee ignores all the established fundamentals. Does nothing according to Queensberry. Has a clownish style and is what is known as a bad hitter. Yet he's a world champion. And a deserving one. Ten years ago he was good enough to hold his own with Kilbane when the Cleveland Irishman was in his prime.

"Formless" Champions

Harry Greb is another world champion who disdains the accepted canons of the cauliflower trade. The Pittsburgh middleweight is just as much of a freak as Dundee. In some respects they are somewhat alike. Eternally aggressive, their winning chance lies mainly in a ceaseless attack. The old-time crowd on Greb. "He can't hit. He doesn't know what a counter is. He has no defense."

Possibly. Yet he's the world champion middleweight.

Pal Moore, southern bantamweight, also belongs to the freak class. Moore never held a title, though he whipped four bantamweight champions, Kid Williams, Johnny Brito, Pete Herman and Joe Lynch. Moore was an acrobatic buffoon in the ring. His penchant for bounding off the ropes at the slightest provocation added to his uniqueness.

Moore's ring mannerisms were even more pronounced than those of Dundee and Greb. He got his ideas about fighting from watching negro roustabouts go through their catineries in free-for-all fights down in Tennessee.

BILL GUTHRIE
UNIQUE UMPIRE

BY BILLY EVANS

Umpiring is a rather colorless profession. It is the duty of the umpire to call the plays as he sees them. When the ball is delivered by the pitcher to the batsman it is either a ball or strike and the base runners are either out or safe. The work of the umpire is largely mechanical. It is a position that offers few possibilities for color.

Among the men who have umpired in the major leagues for the past two score years have been many great with color. Tim Lincecum, Bill O'Rourke, Bill Byron and Bill Guthrie were a few of the unusual characters who have held the indicator. Lincecum and O'Rourke have passed away, while Byron and Guthrie are back in the minors.

In an official capacity, I have been identified with all four, each has his own unusual style. Tim Lincecum was the master at repartee. Bill O'Rourke was the acrobat of the diamond, no one dared doubt his statement that he never missed one in his life. Bill Byron was the singing arbitrator. When the athletes poured tales of woe into Byron's ear he gave no heed, but sang to them little ditties intended to allay their injured feelings, but which usually stirred them up all the more.

A Unique Character

The last of the four unique umpires who have graced the majors was Bill Guthrie, who broke into the American league with me late in the fall of 1922. And, believe me, Bill Guthrie is a mighty good umpire. I shall never forget Bill's opening remark when he greeted me in the dressing room in Detroit.

"Well, kid, here I am. I have been shooting at this league for 15 years and finally made the grade." Then a slight hesitation. "And now the big question is, how long am I going to stay here?"

In his very first game Bill chased Catcher Ketcher, then playing with Washington, from the game. With the sacks loaded and the count three and two Bill called the third strike for the final out, a cure ball that broke over the plate. Ketcher protested loudly and then took his shower. The name Ketcher was a tongue twister to Bill, and before the start of the game he had shortened it to "Spach." Here is how he explained the passing of Ketcher when we got into the dressing room.

Called Him Spach

"What do you think of Spach, the vegetable catcher on the Washington club?" I called the third out man in the alley and he turned around and started to sing the "Washington Blues."

"What did you do?" I asked him.

"I told him that everything he said to me was old stuff and unless he had a new set of words, to beat it to the clubhouse." He did.

The first time Guthrie saw the New York club he got into an argument on the very first play of the game. Whitey Witt hit a slow grounder to the infield and gave Guthrie a half-line decision at first. Bill called him out. As Witt ran back to protest, Miller Huggins, who had been coaching at third base, also rushed over to join Witt in the chorus. Before either had a chance to say much, Guthrie shouted:

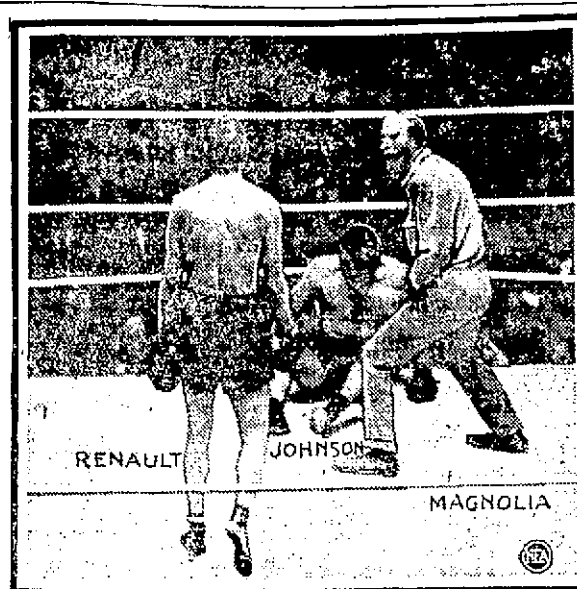

"The gate for you, Witt, and you can take the ball-play with you," said Guthrie, as he pointed at the primitive Huggins. The sally brought forth a smile from even the irritated manager of the Yanks and he beat it with Witt. Almost before the game had started.

No Close Decisions

Lake O'Loughlin, Guthrie didn't take much stock in the close ones, to him the decisions were either that or that. This was accompanied with the umpire's way of pronouncing a runner out, and that with the signal of safe. There were no close ones, either this or that.

During the two months Bill Guthrie worked with me he kept me constantly in good humor. He was original in every way. Any ball player who ever won an argument from Guthrie deserved it. Bill was an unusual character, one of the few that have graced the umpire profession. Had he stuck in the big show he would have earned a place with Lincecum, O'Rourke and Byron for being original. He would have furnished columns of copy.

I was mighty sorry to see him depart from the majors. He was a good umpire, even though the general belief is, that the only good umpires are the dead ones.

GHARRITY PASSES UP BIG SHOW

By N.E.A. Service

RELOTT, Wis. Nov. 8.—Eddie Gharrity, star catcher of the Washington team of the American league, is the latest big leaguer to desert the big top for the fast Mid-West industrial league, which comprises teams from Ohio and Wisconsin.

Eddie, when the season closed, came direct to Beloit and signed a contract with the Fairies, a team representing the Fairbanks-Morse company. During the winter months, Gharrity, who is a crack basketball player, will perform in that capacity for the Fairies. Next spring he will play either first base or catch for the ball club.

Last spring Gharrity was troubled with a sore arm. As a result he started as first string catcher. Ruel had a big year. No less an authority than Connie Mack pronounced him the best catcher in the majors during the 1923 campaign.

Gharrity's contract with Washington terminated at the close of the season. He was offered an all-year job that was so attractive he decided to pass up his big league berth.

FEEL U. S. WILL DECLINE TO PARTICIPATE

PARIS, Nov. 9 (by the Associated Press).—The fact that the French ambassador to the United States, M. Jusserand, has requested a delay in publication of Secretary Hughes' declaration, regarding the proposed expert reparations committee, is taken here as indicating that the United States will decline to participate in the committee. The chances of the committee being organized, consequently are regarded as slight.

There has been no announcement of a declaration from Secretary Hughes regarding the expert committee other than the Hughes-Curzon notes and reports of recent conversations between the secretary and Ambassador Jusserand.

The address will be distributed by the WCAP broadcasting station in Washington on a wave length of 459 meters. At the same time, it will go over a telephone wire to New York where it will be passed through an amplifier and broadcast by WEA on a wave length of 492 meters. Mr. Wilson was to begin speaking at 8.23 p. m. eastern time.

General notice was given that between now and that time all the states, municipalities and shipper's organizations interested may file briefs.

TO RELIEVE FINANCIAL SITUATION IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—(By the Associated Press) Chancellor Stresemann's hastily proclaimed measures, intended to bring relief in the nation's financial and food situation, meet with varying degrees of approval among the financial circles. They view the government's decrees as primarily possessing psychological importance in that they assure the public that the paper mark is not altogether worthless and that it will be shortly traded in against the new coinage in an equitable proportion.

The government's failure to fix definitely the value of the paper mark in relation to the present limited issue of gold loan notes is the chief source of popular disappointment as the official communiques the past three days were considered to have foreshadowed definite action at once in this direction.

The government now makes its final appraisal of the paper mark contingent upon its ability to halt the money presses and obtain sufficient new revenues through the commandeering of foreign currency and the levying of taxes the foreign money to be replaced with the new German gold currencies.

Better Element in Britain Opposed to Participation of Subjects Who Thwart Law

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—President Coolidge was told today by the Rev. T. G. Brierly Kay and Thomas Nightingale of the Church Police Union of Great Britain, that the opinion of the better element in the British Isles is bitterly opposed to any participation by British subjects in rum-running activities off the American coast.

"Rum-running," the two ministers said they told the president, "is a case of men in the United States who want to defy the law co-operating with men of Great Britain, who have no sympathy with law. Between them they thwart the purposes of the law."

The ministers presented to the president a message of greeting from the archbishop of Canterbury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Ottoman-American Development Co. holder of extensive concessions in Turkey, was split open today by the resignation of several of its most powerful and influential trustees and directors, as a result of an attempt to sell $100,000 in stock to the public at $1000 a share, the New York Evening Post said today.

Maj. Gen. George W. Gretnah, U.S.A., retired, and H. C. Sheridan, of Washington, American representative of Vickers, Ltd., have resigned as voting trustees, the newspaper asserted, and Frederick S. Blackall, American manufacturer; F. B. Potter, of Pouch & Co., members of the New York stock exchange and A. S. Roberts, associated with Mr. Sheridan, have resigned as directors.

PRACTICING MEDICINE BY USE OF FAKE DIPLOMAS

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Dr. Charles H. Prior, secretary of the state board of registration in medicine, said today that the board was conducting an investigation in order to determine whether there was any foundation for reports that various persons in other states were practicing medicine by the use of false diplomas bearing the names of medical schools in Massachusetts.

"If we obtain evidence of fraud," he said, "drastic action will be taken by this board, but up to date we have no evidence to prove that fake diplomas have ever been issued by any Massachusetts medical college."

The board, he added, was not centering its investigation upon any particular institution.

Sum Contributed to German Child Feeding Fund During Six Months

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The sum of more than $1,500,000 had been contributed by the United States to the German child feeding fund during the past six months, the monies being disbursed through the German Red Cross and the central committee for foreign relief.

The chairman of the latter, Dr. Hermann Rau, will shortly leave for the United States to assist in the drive for funds recently announced by Major General Henry T. Allen, former commander of the American forces on the Rhine.

The German government, it is announced, will appropriate 5,000,000 gold marks for child-feeding, a sum which is estimated will duly provide for 600,000 children for a period of five months.

In Dresden, one-sixth of the children attending the public schools are reported ill from the effects of under-nourishment. Many of them are habitually detained at home by their parents, who assert their children are less inclined to feel hunger pangs when left in bed.

CONTROL OF PORTLAND CEMENT CO. DISCUSSED

LONDON, Nov. 8.—On Wednesday morning the Daily Express printed a story to the effect that the Associated Portland Cement Manufacturers, Ltd., had passed into the hands of the newly organized Associated Anglo-Atlantic corporation. The newspaper said that a London stock broker for some time had been buying in the open market shares of the Portland Cement Co. and had finally obtained a controlling interest.

The article has raised considerable stir in financial and commercial circles. The exact relationship between the old and the new companies is something of a mystery at the moment.

The secretary of the Portland company denied that the Anglo-Atlantic had obtained control of the Portland, adding that the Portland's directors had long been aware of the purchase of stock in their company to a considerable amount. These shares were being acquired, the secretary said by a financial group with which the directors for some time had been in "friendly communication."

The total acquisitions in no wise amount to control, he stated. A statement was in behalf of the Anglo-Atlantic does not claim a capture of the Portland.

TO BROADEN SCOPE OF SENATE INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The scope of the senate inquiry into the veterans bureau probably will be broadened as a result of statements made to the investigating committee late yesterday by its counsel that certain employees of the bureau have sought in every way to hinder the work of obtaining records and papers for the prosecution.

R. C. Routsong, in charge of the statistical division, who was assigned by Director Frank C. Hines to assist committee counsel was named as one of the employees and the committee asked that it be furnished a list of the others. Specifically, Routsong was charged with withholding papers relating to payments to Matthew O'Brien, a San Francisco architect for unused plans for a hospital at Livermore, Cal.

One letter showed that O'Brien had presented a claim for only $12,000 in addition to the $64,000 paid him for the original plans and committee counsel indicated that this letter would be of much importance to its investigation into the payment of $33,000 to O'Brien by the general accounting office of the budget bureau.

The committee was in recess today until next Monday. Routsong and some of the other employees may be called next week. The committee also will be prepared then to hear Charles A. Forbes, former director of the bureau and some of his witnesses. Forbes was too ill yesterday to attend the hearing and the time of his appearance on the witness stand is indefinite.

Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, has expressed a desire to have the committee's report and the record of the hearings ready for congress next month.

Recommendations for several important changes in the law governing the treatment of the former service men are expected to be one outcome of the investigation.

Public Service Board and Mayor Confer With Public Utility Heads

Plan Devised Whereby Streets Opened Will Be Returned to Original Condition

As result of a conference held with the board of public service yesterday afternoon by representatives of seven public utility corporations, the board will recommend the establishment of a new system of street repairs in spots torn up by these corporations in the construction of new service or extensions. This new system will be for the purpose of seeing to it that streets are repaired in a condition comparable with the original surface and in practically every case the work will be done by street department employees and the cost billed to the public service corporation to whom the permit to open the highway was issued.

The conference came about as result of a letter sent to the board early this week by Mayor John J. Donovan, in which it was stated that complaints have reached his ears relative to the unsatisfactory conditions of streets following openings by public utility corporations. Also, the law department has been called upon to settle a number of claims growing out of poorly repaired streets.

Present at the conference in addition to the members of the public service board, the mayor and city solicitor, were William E. Badger and S. S. Kent of the Locks and Canals; W. C. Johnson of the N. E. Tel. and Tel. Co.; Maurice E. McCormick, manager, and E. P. Seymour, roadmaster of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co.; William Ryan, Postal Tel. Co.; T. A. Thorpe, Western Union; A. I. Plandorf, Lowell Gas Light Co., and C. W. Brown, Lowell Electric Light Corp.

Each of these representatives who spoke, and most of them did, stated that his company much preferred to have the city do all such repair work and bill the cost to the corporation involved.

Deane J. Murphy, chairman of the board, suggested the appointment of a repair gang and one or more supervisors from within the street department to make a special business of doing just this type of work. It also was suggested by Engineer Stephen Kearney that some arrangement be made whereby money paid by public service corporations on bills presented be credited to the street maintenance appropriation instead of being placed in the general treasury fund, but this seems hardly possible under present financial laws.

Chairman Murphy opened the conference by declaring that many complaints have been received relative to tearing up streets and repairing them in a haphazard manner, sometimes by the street department office it is stipulated thereon that the street in question shall be returned to its original condition. He said also he has found all local public service corporations fair in such matters and always willing to co-operate with his board in any possible manner.

"What we lack is a system," he continued, "and I feel the city is as much in blame as the corporations here represented."

After one or two of the public utility corporations' representatives had spoken and expressed a preference of having the city do all repair work, City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds inquired as to tunneling which is done in a number of instances and raised the question of weakening the surface to such an extent as to make a cave-in possible. He said repairs done in Gorham street this summer have not left the street in as good condition as it was originally.

Engineer Kearney said it would be impossible for the street department to maintain its regular paving program and do all the repairing required in addition. He had no money to do it, he declared. He favored the creation of an appropriation or fund to which re-

Opportunity Tomorrow to Help Disabled Veterans—Proclamation by Mayor

Lowell people tomorrow will be asked to give toward the comfort and happiness of those among its service men who came out of the World war crippled in body and mind and now must depend upon the generosity and care of their fellow men for maintenance and care. They are members of the Disabled War Veterans of America, for whom Forget-Me-Not day now has become an annual institution.

Tomorrow on the streets forget-me-nots will be sold as a means of raising money to be expended for these veterans and the public is urged to give freely to a most justifiable and worthy cause.

That Mayor John J. Donovan has increased himself in the success of the day is evinced by the following proclamation issued by him today:

A PROCLAMATION

"A few short years ago thousands of our young men answered the call to colors to go overseas to uphold the honor and glory of the Stars and Stripes. Months later our triumphant troops returned, victory perched upon their battle standards and flags, with mingled feelings of joy and sadness in their hearts; joy at returning to the homeland to those they loved, sadness in their hearts for their comrades left behind to sleep in Flanders field.

"In the ranks of the victorious were many broken in health and spirit, crippled and in need of tender and loving care. For the dead we have our prayers to offer that they may be happy in the great beyond; for the living we have only earthly means. We must 'keep them smiling.'

"On Nov. 10, the Disabled American Veterans throughout the United States conduct their annual 'Forget-Me-Not' day and come before the public for aid. I urge that every man, woman and child of our city, a city that is proud of its service men and one that has always done its bit, heed their plea for assistance. It is the one remaining way that we can show our gratitude to those boys who faced the enemy with smiles on their lips and courage in their hearts. 'Keep them smiling.'

"JOHN J. DONOVAN, Mayor."

In connection with "Forget-Me-Not" day Frank Ricard, the Central street jeweler, has offered a beautiful loving cup to the girl collecting the largest amount of money.

pair gang work could be directly charged.

Mr. Murphy stressed the need of a follow-up system and Mr. Leary of the board also favored it. Mr. Murphy suggested the establishment of a repair gang, headed by one or more inspectors, whose duty it would become to look after all excavations made in the streets on permits and to return the thoroughfare to its original condition.

The mayor favored this suggestion and the conference closed with this idea in mind.

The board discussed the need of new boilers at the West Sixth street pumping station in connection with a recent communication from the mayor or hearing upon the subject and plans and specifications covering the purchase and installation of two new boilers, at a cost of about $13,000, were submitted to his honor for consideration.

Pending such a time as all members of the public service board have had opportunity to determine the merits of two street cleaning machines upon which bids recently were submitted it was decided that the mayor would withhold his approval of an award made to the Elgin Co. by purchasing agent Edward J. Donnelly. The mayor asked the board for advice on the matter and a full expression of the board's members is expected at the next or subsequent meeting.

A communication from Michael H. Harrington, superintendent of ash and waste collection, relative to the dump in the rear of the textile school, was received and placed on file. All offensive material thereon has been covered as requested by the board of health, to whom a number of complaints had been directed.

A request from the school committee that Kirk street be paved from Paige to French streets was referred to the engineer.

An order was adopted for a 50-foot sewer extension in Seventh avenue, to cost $360. It was decided that the city ledge should cease operations after next week.

Adjourned at 4:35 p. m.

Prior to the regular meeting the members of the board went on a view and later approved monthly bills.

LIQUOR CASES IN COURT

Three Months and Fine of $100 in One Case—Another Continued

A fine of $150 and sentence of three months in the house of correction was imposed on Joseph Connolly in district court this morning for illegally keeping liquor. It was his second offense of this nature.

Connolly's arrest was brought about as the result of a raid in the neighborhood of the court by officers of the police department. Officers McLooney, Keegan, Bailey and Kilroy went there last night and seized a quantity of liquor.

A second raid last night brought on Laferriere before the court for illegal keeping. He pleaded not guilty this morning and was continued until Nov. 20, bonds being set at $300.

Sergeant Winn, Federal Agent Sullivan and Officer Conroy were responsible for Laferriere's arrest after they had raided the premises at 156 Hall street and procured several pint bottles of whiskey.

he wished to purchase, but when they put their money together it was discovered that the sum of $750 was needed to complete the deal.

The storekeeper then went to his bank and drew out the $750, went back to the store, and handed it over to the visitor from Canada, who, with "gentleman" number one, promised to come around and see him in a few days. When they had departed, a third man went into the store and coughed for the genuineness of the diamonds.

"The few days" passed, however, and the merchant has not laid eyes on his "friends." Suspecting a swindle, he went to Capt. Peria, who, upon examination, told him that the goods were worth "about 25 cents."

The three men suspected of being connected with the deal are described as follows: Number one—35, 5 feet, 7 inches, slim build, medium complexion. Number two—40, 5 feet 11 inches, medium build, medium complexion. Number three—35, 5 feet, 5 inches, stocky build and medium complexion. All were overcoats.

When apprised of the twenty-five cent valuation of his articles, the storekeeper became excited and asked Capt. Peria: "What will my wife say?"

The captain allowed he couldn't answer that question.

Inter-Allied Council of Ambassadors Summoned to Consider Situation

Advance Information Prompted French Government's Warning to Berlin

PARIS, Nov. 9 (By the Associated Press).—The inter-allied council of ambassadors has been summoned to meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon to consider the situation in Germany.

Exchanges of views are proceeding between France and her allies as to the action that may be necessary if the movement in Bavaria extends to other states in the Reich.

It was learned today that the French military secret service became aware of the movement in Bavaria yesterday morning and that it was this that prompted the French government to notify Berlin that it could not tolerate the establishment of a military dictatorship.

CHARGED WITH PASSING BOGUS CHEQUES

Miss Lorena Love, alias McLove, 35 years old, was arrested in Salem for the Lowell police last night and was brought to this city by Officer Frank Moloney early this afternoon.

She is wanted here for the alleged passing of worthless checks. Harry Armand, a John street store-owner complained, that she procured a sum of money from him by this method about three months ago. She disappeared soon after the act and was at large until picked up by the Salem police by means of a description furnished from local headquarters.

LIBERTY HALL MEETING

Interesting Addresses at Meeting of Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange

A gathering of representative real estate men from almost every section of the state met in Liberty hall last evening for a business meeting and banquet of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange. Many prominent speakers were present to address the meeting on the various angles of the land business and of industries in their relation to real estate.

Preceding the speaking, the toastmaster, John B. Richards of Fall River, president of the Real Estate Owners' Association of that city, proposed toasts to Calvin Coolidge, United States president, and Channing Cox, governor of Massachusetts, as true friends of law, order and justice, three things that this country stands in great need of today.

W. Franklin Burnham, president of the exchange, was the first speaker on the program, and he concerned himself with a discussion of the taxation problem and made a plea for all to exert themselves to see that a basis was established for appraising of property that would be fair to all concerned. He spoke of the work that the exchange is doing to help solve the problem in this state in addition to the help it is giving to real estate brokers with their own troublesome problems. Character is the foundation of success in any business nowadays, he declared, and a real estate man especially must be just in his dealings or he will lose the confidence of his prospective customers. He hoped that all would see lower construction costs within three or four years, due to a reduction in charges for railroad transportation that is predicted at present.

The principal address of the evening was given by Harry C. Meserve, secretary of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association, and formerly a resident of this city. He is a former Congregational minister.

The subject on which Mr. Meserve spoke was "The Cotton Industry and Its Relation to Real Estate in Massachusetts." He impressed the fact on his hearers that Lowell and other manufacturing cities of New England owe their existence to some particular form of industry and therefore should endeavor to do all in their power to aid these industries. New England, he declared, is the ideal spot in this country, and manufacturing should prosper here even better than in the south and west. The main need here is enthusiasm, said Mr. Meserve.

He praised New England and Lowell in particular for the manner in which they are endeavoring to Americanize the aliens who come to this shore from other countries, and for the tolerant manner in which we allow them to buy homes and become assimilated with the older citizens. This has been the case since the first settlers here, he declared, and he hoped that the future of the industry and the people of this country should prosper here even better than in the south and west. The main need here is enthusiasm, said Mr. Meserve.

WAITING ROOM AT GALLAGHER'S

Trolley Company Will Probably Use Candy Store as Temporary Shelter

Will Continue Effort to Find More Suitable Place at Reasonable Rental

Only official sanction from the trustees of the street railway company is necessary before a waiting room for car patrons is provided in Merrimack square. Gallagher's candy store, located just to the west of the junction of Bridge and Merrimack streets, on the north side of Merrimack street, will be used temporarily.

This was the outcome of a conference at city hall last yesterday afternoon between District Manager Maurice E. McCormick of the trolley corporations, members of the waiting room committee of the city council, and representatives of various local improvement associations. Council President James J. Gallagher, the prospective landlord, presided at the session.

Move Only Temporary

Mr. Gallagher explained that he would permit the use of his store by the trolley company provided that it would not injure his business and provided further that it should be only temporary and to relieve the present urgent need for some such convenience. Mr. McCormick assured the conference that the trolley company would continue to look for any other location and would be glad to take any location available should one be presented.

"All we want is someone to show us the place—where the rent is not unreasonable," said Mr. McCormick. Asked if the company would object to paying rental on two stores, say Mr. Gallagher's for one and another store on Paige street to care for the Centralville people, Mr. McCormick said he felt sure there would be no objection providing the combined rental was not too exorbitant.

Rental Price Main Difficulty

In answer to a question as to how much rent the trolley company is willing to pay, Mr. McCormick stated that the trustees could not afford to pay more than $100 a month, and that the company has not been unwillingness on the part of the company to provide a waiting room, but rather inability to procure one at a rental at all within their price.

The Courier-Citizen building, about to be vacated, would make an ideal location and the first floor could be fitted to serve the purpose admirably, said Mr. McCormick. The owners, however, desire to rent the whole building for a price in the vicinity of $3,000 a year and taxes. This would be prohibitive, Mr. McCormick said, adding that the company could not take the whole building and sublet parts thereof as the trustees are prohibited by statute from doing real estate business. They have been unwillingly required to dispose of what real estate they previously held which was not used exclusively in connection with the operation of its lines, he added.

The suggestion that glass roofs might be extended over the sidewalks, and petitions, to go along the curbs, erected in stormy weather, was held not feasible as it would interfere with the display of goods by merchants in their shop windows, and might involve lawsuits against both the city and the trolley company.

Positive Decision Monday

In regard to the Gallagher store, Mr. McCormick stated that some time ago when the company planned to make a waiting room in the store, sent members of the board to take a look at it and go into the store. The company still has these stores, he said. He believed that he could by Monday have an answer from the trustees relative to making use of the Gallagher store.

The rental of the Green drug store, suggested as a waiting room, was said to be in the vicinity of $15,000 a year, which makes the use of that store out of the question. It is further understood, it was said, that the Green store lease expires in a year or so and that store is already promised to a chain drug store firm when the Green lease expires.

The matter of securing the Merrimack street store recently vacated by the Royal bakery was mentioned but passed by when it was stated the annual rental was about $7200.

Service is Criticized

Richard Sykes took advantage of the conference with Manager McCormick to complain of the trolley service given on the South End line. South Lowell line. He said that the trolley company runs these cars about fifteen minutes instead of half-hour time he felt sure that the increased revenue which would accrue thereby would justify the better schedules. Mr. McCormick promised to look into the matter and take it up with him later.

Councillors Genest and Gallagher were the city government representatives at the meeting. Councillor Cannon was unable to attend. Other attendants, who represented various improvement associations, were Thomas F. Garvey, Arthur C. Spalding, John R. Keegan and C. F. Cronin.

Charles H. Scott of Hollis, N. H., charged with drunkenness and operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued in $400 until tomorrow.

A non-suit charge, preferred against Martin J. Finn, was continued one week.

This Little World

By GEORGE BRITT
N.E.A. Service Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Styles in chorus girls this fall run to youth and plumpness.

Not bulkiness. But a fulness of figure different from the willowy types of years ago. Whether that ideal prevails elsewhere is a matter for research, but it is accepted by a leading producer here.

Half a dozen members of his chorus attend high school by day, and at night they are brought to work by vigilant and proud mothers.

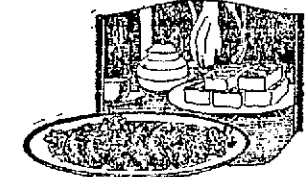

Cities are the places where people do not grow old. There, persons of 50, 60 or beyond, do not resign themselves to do without the pastimes of youth. Gray hairs are as likely to be found in a ballroom as at the theatre, at parties past midnight as well as sitting beside the fire at home. It would be scandalous in a village but—

When persons may walk three blocks across the Loop at noon just as quickly as they could ride a taxi through the congested traffic, why don't they walk? Perhaps walking has become a lost art. Certainly it is true that the business man rides the three blocks, and his wife on a shopping trip takes a cab for the few blocks between stores.

The taxicab business reflects the tendency by the trouble the companies have in keeping their drivers from concentrating too thickly downtown. The short-haul trade is profitable, and they want to hang around and get lots of it. Walking would at least save the cab companies that difficulty.

The government shows too lurid a taste in posters, is the complaint of the attorney for a famous hotel here, closed by injunction for violating the prohibition act. The posters selected to be printed in and around explained that the building would be unoccupied for one year. Too large, too glaring, too glibly and a bad example were among the complaints entered against them before the judge. The posters are still there.

Listen to motorists, and one may believe half the suburban towns around Chicago are paying their streets by extortionate fines. The favorite country town setting for such stories is Justice park. The name, according to drivers, should not refer to the qualities of penalties exacted but Justice of the peace, whose authority rests heavy upon innocent and guilty alike.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS

OF GOV. WALTON

Only Real Objection is "Our

Dislike to Admit We Have Been Wrong Three Years"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 9 (By the Associated Press).—Additional witnesses will be called by the prosecution today in the impeachment trial of Gov. J. C. Walton in support of its charge that the executive diverted public funds to his own use by entering his personal chauffeur on the payroll of the state health department.

The allegation constitutes article 2 of the impeachment bill against the governor.

The testimony of all witnesses yesterday at the opening session of the trial told how P. L. Edwards, the alleged chauffeur, was placed on the health department payroll as an inspector under an agreement between Governor Walton and Dr. A. B. Davenport, state health commissioner, who is an appointee of the governor.

Edwards did not work for the department, but was paid a monthly salary of $200 while he operated the executive's private automobiles, the testimony showed.

FLOOD OF MONEY TO HALT RUN ON WICHITA BANK

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 9.—Officials of the Fourth National bank of Wichita, the second largest in Kansas, were prepared this morning to turn loose a flood of money should there be a continuation of the run which started yesterday after circulation of rumors that the institution's financial condition was unsound.

The Kansas City Federal Reserve bank, members of the local clearing house association, Wichita business men and numerous outside banks rushed to the assistance of the Fourth national when the run was at its height and it was announced last night by Jerome Herington, vice president, that $250,000 in cash would be on hand with the opening of business this morning.

One version of the rumors leading up to the run, was that an employee of the bank who had been discharged circulated statements that the institutions standing had been impaired.

GENERAL ELECTION ON PROTECTION ISSUE

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Circles close to Prime Minister Baldwin favor December 10 as the date for the general election on the protection issue, the Daily Mail says. With equal assurance the Daily Express says that no election is contemplated next month.

The cabinet meets today, when the question of appealing to the country on the protective tariff issue will be discussed.

This is Lord Mayor's day, when the famous Lord Mayor's Show numbers through the streets of London, its antiquated pageantry relieved by an infusion of modern troops and tableaux representing scientific discoveries and inventions. The show will be followed by the annual banquet at Guildhall.

This feast customarily is the occasion of important ministerial speeches and it is thought that Mr. Baldwin may let the election cat out of the bag when he makes his address.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS RECAPTURED

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—The heavy steel gates at the eastern state penitentiary closed again today on Francis J. Flynn, one of the long term prisoners who escaped from the institution Monday night. Captured at Reading, Pa., yesterday, Flynn was brought back to the penitentiary today and placed in a dark cell.

Flynn, who had been arrested in Reading for illegal carrying and sentenced to 10 days, was recognized by the warden of the Berks county jail when he was taken there to begin his sentence. He was taken into custody as he stepped from an Allenstown freight train. He told the authorities that he had left Philadelphia on a freight train immediately after escaping and had not seen Emil Brody, one of the four who made the break for liberty, since the riot little in the corridor of the penitentiary. Brody is the only one still at large.

army and had established Hitler as "arbiter of the destinies of Germany." Dr. Von Kahr, who several weeks ago was made military dictator of Bavaria, has accepted the government of the state "as a representative of the monarchy." Gen. Von Lossow, leader of the Bavarian Reichswehr, has been named minister of war, while Herr Von Tschammer, former chief of police of Munich, has been made administrator.

When word of the revolt reached Berlin, the central government severed all relations with Bavaria, appointed Gen. Von Seeckt as commander-in-chief of the national army and announced the withdrawal of all federal support from the rebellious state until constitutional conditions should be resumed.

The government also addressed the following manifesto to the German people:

"At this moment of great tension in the foreign and domestic situation some foolish people are endeavoring to break up the German Reich."

"An armed band has overthrown the government in Munich, arrested Premier Von Kahr and arrogated to itself the right to institute a government of the Reich. It has made Ludendorff commander-in-chief of the German army and has made Hitler, who was naturalized only some days ago, arbiter of the destinies of Germany."

There is no need to say that this decision to carry a coup d'etat can have no effect. Whoever supports this movement will be guilty of high treason.

"Instead of helping in the Rhineland and the Ruhr our brethren who are fighting in Germany's cause, such persons are plunging the Reich into a catastrophe, threatening its food supplies. They are exposing it to an enemy invasion and they are destroying all chances of economic improvement."

"The recent measures of the Reich in the monetary domain have had the effect of notably improving the position of the mark abroad within the last 24 hours. This will be lost if the attempt made in Munich succeeds."

"We exhort all patriots to defend the unity, order and liberty of the Reich. All steps to combat the coup d'etat and to restore order have been taken and will be carried out with the utmost vigor."

Civil War Inevitable

LONDON, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press) Civil war in Germany regarded here as the only logical outcome of the rebel action in Munich and on the face of news hitherto received, such a result is considered inevitable.

The ultimate purpose of the Hitler-Von Kahr-Ludendorff combination is not yet apparent, but all advice reaching London seem to point to an attempt to restore the monarchy in Germany with Bavaria replacing Prussia as the dominant state.

Gen. Ludendorff, it seems, is to be the military dictator of the Reich, and the republic is to be swept away. Whether he and his fellow conspirators are men of the right mettle to effect the change remains to be seen, but the reputations given Von Kahr and Hitler in despatch to the English newspapers during the last few weeks, do not suggest that these men possess the necessary qualifications for carrying out such a momentous undertaking.

No word reaching London indicates the attitude of the Reichswehr toward the Munich revolt, but on the loyalty of these troops to the Berlin government everything of course depends. Hitherto there has been nothing to show that any resistance was offered to Hitler in Munich and the indications are that the initial stages of the rebellion passed bloodlessly.

The names of Prince Rupprecht or other members of the Bavarian family, do not appear in any dispatches reaching here, and whether they are included in the plans of the conspirators can be only conjectured at present.

Little except official news is likely to get out of Berlin for many hours in view of right censorship established as soon as news of the putsch reached the capital.

Reports reaching London early this morning said that Berlin was swarming with troops last night and that the Reich cabinet was in continuous session.

It is assumed here that President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann will do their utmost to avoid fighting, but General von Seeckt, who has been appointed commander-in-chief of the national army and invested with full military authority, apparently has been given a free hand in disposing of the Reichswehr forces.

What effect the whole situation will have in France, is among the greatest anxieties of the moment here.

Renovation in Paris

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press).—The coup d'etat in Munich which has put into power, Adolf Hitler, leader of the Bavarian Fascists and Gen. Ludendorff, has created a tremendous sensation here, although such an event had been foreseen.

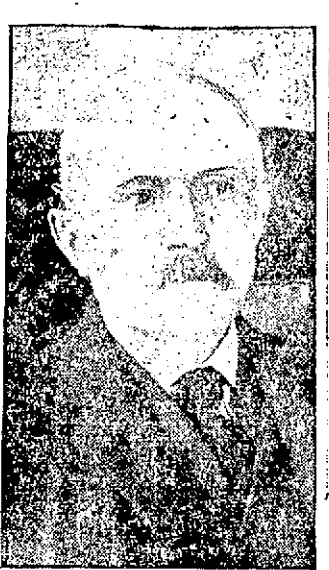

It is feared that the movement will not be confined to Bavaria and it is doubtful whether the Reichswehr or national defense troops, will be able to resist it. Ludendorff, it is pointed out, is too much of a Prussian to desire to promote a greater Bavaria. He is a monarchist and a legitimist and has always declared for the restoration of the Hohenzollerns.

The action may have been precipitated, it is believed here, by the decision of the allied council of ambassadors yesterday and Premier Poincaré's warning to Germany that France would not tolerate a national military dictatorship. According to La Matine, the Premier's

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR GEORGE C. MOORE

Impressive services this afternoon marked the funeral of George C. Moore, late proprietor of the George C. Moore Wood Sourcing mills and the North Chelmsford Machine Supply company.

The services were held in the North Chelmsford Congregational church at 2 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being ing the Rev. E. Ambrose Jenkins of Rev. Rev. former pastor, and the Rev. Wilfred D. Harrison, present pastor. Many friends were in attendance and there was a profusion of floral tributes.

The honorary bearers were: John P. Sawyer, A. G. Pollard, Fred C. Church, Charles Traister, E. C. Preston, Leroy Brown, H. H. Bright and Elmer Silver, while the ushers and active bearers were Hon. Herbert E. Fletcher, Edgar Dixon, Walter L. Chase, H. Stanley Cryer, John Bridgford and Fred L. Vinal.

Appropriate selections were rendered during the services by the Mendelssohn quartet.

Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Harry S. Griffin of New York, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Healey.

FUNERALS

HUSE.—The funeral of Charles H. Huse took place from the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John L. Huse, 13 Campus avenue, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Everett E. Jackson, pastor of the Highland Union M. E. church. The house was filled with relatives and friends and the floral offerings were unusually numerous and beautiful. The following delegation was present representing William North Lodge, A.F. and A.M.; Harold D. McDonald, W.M., Herbert W. Hornum, S.W., Arthur Bartlett, J.W., and Royal K. Dexter, M.C. The bearers were: Earle Huse, John Huse, Vernon Huse, William Nichols, Ernest Swanson and Farnald McDonald. Burial was in the family lot in Westlawn cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

KIDNEY.—The funeral of John Kidney took place from the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Kidney, 226 Westford street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

ROCHETTE.—The funeral of Maurice Rochette, son of Julius and Marie (Cinquara) Rochette, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 7 Dearfield street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

ORT.—The funeral of Mrs. Annie E. (Cravan) Ort, wife of John J. Ort, and a life long resident of Lowell, took place at 3 o'clock from the home of her home, 545 Fletcher street and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including a number from out of town. The service proceeded to St. Patrick's church where deceased had been a communicant since childhood, and at 3 o'clock a funeral high mass was sung by Rev. James A. Supple. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Daniel Brady, O.S.B. of St. Anselm's college, Manchester, N. H. and Rev. John Lyons of Alton, Mass. The choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson rendered the Gregorian chant, and the solos of the mass were sustained by Miss Frances E. Tip and Daniel S. O'Brien. Mr. Johnson presided.

Instructions to Ambassador Margerie followed a request of the German representative for information as to France's attitude in the event of a military coup.

The situation in Germany as seen here, is at best extremely grave. With civil war seemingly at hand, a solution of the reparations question is apparently more remote than ever.

Says Ebert Overthrown

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 9.—A telephone message from Munich this morning says that Adolf Hitler declares that the revolution which started in Germany five years ago, has ended, that the Berlin government and President Ebert have been deposed and that Munich will henceforth be the seat of the imperial government.

Paris is said to prevail in Munich and the troops are moving with great severity to prevent disorders. The fact that former Crown Prince Rupprecht has not participated in the movement has disappointed the people who regret that their beloved Bavarian dynasty has been left out of the situation.

General opinion here is that civil war in Germany is inevitable, inasmuch as Hitler has announced that his troops will march against Berlin to prevent against Munich in order to reconquer that "hotbed of reaction."

Gen. Von Seeckt has been appointed commander-in-chief of the troops "to operate against the Bavarians," the dispatch says. All railway traffic has ceased, and the payment of the Bavarian Reichswehr has been stopped.

War Minister Gessler has forbidden the German newspapers to publish anything other than official reports regarding Bavarian events.

siding at the organ. There was a wealth of floral tributes, filling a large automobile to capacity, and also a profusion of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were John J. Sullivan, William O'Connor, Frank Dodge, John Nyhan, John Cryan and Ernest Landry. At the grave Rev. Dr. Sumpster assisted by Rev. Fr. Brady read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell and Sons.

ANDREWS.—The funeral of Anthony Andrews took place at 3 o'clock from the home of his parents, Nean and Maria Gomes Andrews, 274 Central street. Services were held at St. Anthony's church at 4 o'clock, the prayers being read by Rev. Joseph Griffin. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough and Sons.

MURACA.—The funeral of Dorothy Muraca, daughter of Matthew and the late Cella De George Muraca, took place this morning at 11 o'clock from 31 Highland street. There were many floral offerings. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough and Sons.

TWO FOUR-ALARM FIRES SEC. HOOVER'S VIEWS

IN WASHINGTON

ON MERCHANT MARINE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Two four alarm fires today enveloped the Washington Union station and a portion of the Capitol grounds in dense smoke and destroyed property valued at many thousands of dollars.

While several companies were struggling with a coffee plant fire an alarm was turned in from a storage house a few blocks away. The second fire was only a short distance from the railway station, and a brisk wind carried thick smoke clouds through the station concourse and along the corridors of the senate office building nearby. Virtually all the city's fire apparatus struggled with the two fires throughout the morning without bringing either completely under control.

STUART.—Frank P. Stuart died yesterday at the Lowell Corporation hospital, aged 72 years. He leaves his wife, Mary Elizabeth Stuart, and two sons, Charles E. and James F. Stuart of this city.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Multiplication of American business houses abroad, to import American goods brought to them in American ships is necessary to build up the American merchant marine, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce told the American marine congress at its annual dinner last night. And to enable the American merchant abroad to do business profitably the United States government, he said, should repeal the tax it levies both on his corporation and private income, which piled on the taxes exacted by the government of the country in which he resides, is forcing him home.

Mr. Hoover pointed out that of American exports the majority is controlled by foreign merchants who buy in this country because the American houses have no selling branches abroad, and of the incoming cargoes the shipping also is dictated by foreign business men who control the merchandise until it is delivered here for the same reason.

TELEPHONE ALARM A telephone alarm at 9:32 this morning called the fire apparatus to 91 Washington street where a fire was in progress in the cellar of a American occupied by Myer Bayarsky. Before the fire could be extinguished it had burned through the partitions near the chimney and set fire to the wood work in the blind attic. The cellar was completely gutted and considerable damage was done to the attic.

Members of the American Legion auxiliary have been requested to be in attendance at the Memorial Auditorium, Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, to join the members of Lowell post, American Legion, and accompany the post on the march to the park in Belvidere, where the ceremonies in honor of Paul T. ### KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ADOPT NEW BY-LAWS

The outstanding feature of last night's regular meeting of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus, was the adoption after a third reading of the new by-laws of the council. Grand Knight Frank A. Groves presided and a raft of routine business was transacted. Preparations were announced as completed for the "Old Times' Night" on Nov. 15, and the special committee spoke hopefully of a fine evening's entertainment. The council is to present a pretentious musical comedy at a later date, that much was incorporated in a report of the ways and means committee. All signs point to a tuneful and delightful presentation.

Daniel S. O'Brien, chairman of the by-laws committee, presented the report from that committee, comprehensively outlining the various new ideas as contained in the new laws. Many radical changes were noted and with their adoption last night, the report goes to Supreme Advocate Luke Hart for approval. Charles J. Landers presented a set of resolutions on the death of the late supreme physician of the order, Dr. Eugene Buckley, which were unanimously adopted.

A committee headed by Edward F. Slattery, Jr., was appointed in conformity with a recommendation from the state deputy, William C. Prout, for the establishment of a debating circle. Luncheon was served after the meeting.

INQUEST ON DEATH OF HIGGINBOTHAM

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—A board of inquest sat at the navy yard today to determine whether Private George H. Higginbotham of the Marine Corps, whose home was in Rogers, Ark., came to his death accidentally or otherwise. He was on guard duty yesterday outside the court martial room of the marine barracks when a pistol shot interrupted the proceedings of the court. Opening the door, officers found the private lying face downward with a pistol at his side. Higginbotham, officers said, had a fine record in the corps.

LOWELL MEN ON RAILROAD FARE COMMITTEE WILL REPRESENT COMMUTERS AND CITIZENS

GEORGE F. WELLS,
(Special to 'The Sun')

WILLIAM N. OSGOOD

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—William A. Osgood of Lowell has been appointed as a member of the committee which will frame the program of protest against the raise of 20 per cent. in commutation tickets on the Massachusetts railroads, at a meeting at the state house at which the protestants organized.

George F. Wells of the Lowell chamber of commerce was offered a position on the committee. He said he was busy for the next two days and would, therefore, be rather useless as a commutator. He promised, however, to do such work as he could.

The meeting was lively in the extreme, especially when an offer of the minority stockholders of the Boston and Maine of $10,000 to fight the roads in the fare raises was turned down. Jean P. Nickerson, the secretary of the protestants' society, said the protestants will fight without funds so that no one could bring a charge of "grafting" against the members of the opposing forces.

TWO-DAY ANNUAL FAIR AT GRACE CHURCH

The two-day annual church fair, which was opened last evening at the Grace Universalist church with a supper and a fine entertainment program, together with gaily decorated booths, proved that the fair will be run on practically as large a proportion as in former years.

At 6:30 o'clock a supper was served by the men of the church under the direction of James Evans, assisted by Ora W. Hardy. During the evening an enjoyable program was carried out, consisting of songs by Mrs. R. Robertson, solo dancing by Miss Jessica Allen and recitations by Miss Virginia Ryan. An orchestra under the direction of Miss Margaret Martin played various selections.

The booths and tables, which are always a feature of the fair, were under the direction of the various members of the church: Fancy table, Mrs. Roger Page, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Morrill; gift shop table, Miss A. Edwards, chairman; candy table, Mrs. James Evans, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edward L. Childs; children's table, Mrs. Charles Cooke, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ora W. Hardy; white elephant table, Mrs. G. Forrest Martin, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Pfeiffer.

WILL BROADCAST THE MESSAGE OF FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

NOT EASY TO FORGET NATIONAL "FORGET-ME-NOT DAY" TOMORROW WITH THESE PRETTY GIRLS TO REMIND YOU

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Five hundred radio broadcasting stations, throughout the United States, will broadcast the message of "National Forget-Me-Not Day," according to Liaison Officer John B. McCarthy of the Disabled American Veterans of the World war, who is here making preparations for the local observance of "Forget-Me-Not Day" to be conducted throughout the country on Saturday, Nov. 10.

Prominent government, state and civic officials will speak over the radio broadcasters in advance of Nov. 10, declared McCarthy yesterday, and all of them will spread the gospel of "Forget-Me-Not Day," pointing out to an audience of ten million or more people the necessity of supporting the day to the maximum limit of generosity. The entire proceeds of the day are to go to the local, regional and national welfare, relief and rehabilitation assistance of the nation's wounded and disabled veterans of the great war.

Tomorrow, Saturday, Nov. 10, many thousands of pretty girls and women will distribute the little forget-me-not flowers to the public. Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, War Mothers, Gold Star Mothers and other organizations will help in the great nation-wide sale of the flowers. The coming observance will mark the third annual "Forget-Me-Not Day" campaign throughout the United States. The Central Trust Co. of Cincinnati, O., is national treasurer of the committee, and banks in the various communities where the drive is to be held will serve as local treasurers for the "Forget-Me-Not Day" committee.

Thomas J. Travers is chairman of the Lowell "Forget-Me-Not" committee.

JUVENILES PLACED ON PROBATION

Theodore Urbanski, 14, and Walter Maslawka, 15, the youths who were apprehended in Jersey City and taken back to this city last Monday, were given suspended sentences to the Lyman and Shirley schools, respectively. In the juvenile court this morning, Urbanski was charged with stealing $230 from his father, and Maslawka with being a stubborn child. They left this city over a week ago, and when they got as far as Fall River they purchased two bicycles and a "motor" the remainder of the distance to New Jersey.

Officer Clancy brought them back to this city.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatic, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Risedale Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk but the pure Risedale Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that propped up take a little Risedale Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the Risedale Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Today's menu at the B. F. Keith theatre will be "Come Into the Kitchen," a farce, with Robert Flather & Co. playing it in front position. It is a fast proposition from beginning to end, and it is admirably played by one of the most competent companies seen at the theatre during the present season. Howland & Meehan, in their mélange of golf and Irish humor, are certainly close to the top. They manufacture laughs every minute they are on deck. Thes Alpa, the wizard in writing, is an entirely new product. Her work is most favorably commented

RIALTO THEATRE

Large audiences at the Rialto theatre were unanimous in their praise of the Thomas Ince production, "Lying Lips," which opened that theatre yesterday. It is a strong and powerful drama of present day life among the rich society folks. Ifouma Peters and Florence Vidor are the leading roles and it can truthfully be said that neither of these brilliant stars have ever been seen to better advantage. They are both called upon to do some real acting and it is then they show why they are real stars. The Fighting Glin, a fast moving, semi-western picture, with Franklin Farnum, is the second feature and for its kind is an unusually clever film. Farnum, in the second feature and for

TO INCREASE EFFICIENCY IN VETERANS' BUREAU

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A thorough study of the organization and methods of the veterans' bureau with a view to obtaining increased efficiency in operation is being made by the senate investigating committee, concurrently with its progress in the past record of the bureau.

During adjournment of the hearings until Monday, the committee members and counsel conferred at length yesterday on the present system and methods of the bureau in filling its obligations to the disabled veterans in connection with the conference, John P. O'Brien, general counsel for the committee, said it was giving very earnest attention to this side of the matter, recognizing that it even more directly affects the welfare of disabled veterans than the record of "waste and dishonesty" in the bureau which he said the hearings had developed.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY NO SECRET

It all lies in the care, the bestowal upon herself and in keeping her body those great life-giving organs, the kidneys, in the best of health. The clear complexion, the healthy organic trouble. A woman so afflicted should take Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs and restore their health to a normal condition. —Adv.

KLAN DEFEATED IN MEMPHIS ELECTION

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 9.—The Ku Klux Klan suffered defeat in yesterday's municipal election when the present city commission, including the mayor and four commissioners, was returned to power for a four year period.

Mayor Rowlett Paine was re-elected with a majority of approximately 2500 votes. W. Joe Wood, who had the endorsement of the Klan, ran second, while Lewis T. Fitzhugh, an avowed opponent of the Klan, trailed.

The unofficial vote, as tabulated by the Commercial Appeal, gave Paine 12,409; Wood 7516; and Fitzhugh 2947.

Candidates on the Klan ticket were also second in the race for commissioner with the Fitzhugh ticket third.

AT ASSOCIATE HALL
There will be check dancing tonight at Associate hall, with Campbell's orchestra furnishing the music. The management announces that Tom Carey's orchestra has been engaged for Monday evening. While Armistice day comes on Sunday, it will be observed the following day and although not a legal holiday it will be celebrated to some degree. Tom Carey's celebrated orchestra has gained an enviable reputation in musical circles and has played at several of the well known summer resorts along the south shore. Carey and his troupe have appeared in Lowell on previous occasions and made a most favorable impression. This evening should prove a knockout with the talents of Lowell. Saturday night, "Maid Hallett's and Miner-Doyle's orchestra" have at it again in a battle of music with all the latest New York dance hits.

Fanny Hutton, the noted playwright, when the exciting film was privately shown to a group of eminent ring-side men, sport writers, fighters and promoters, Jones' pugilistic work was applauded vigorously. One of the promoters offered the famous film star a chance to become famous through another channel, namely, that of the roped arena. Jones, of course, refused, being happy in his present medium.

The other feature is "The Marriage Maker," a William de Mille production, with Mae McAvoy, Jack Holt and Charles de Rohde. For the first half of next week the management announces "Zaza," with Gloria Swanson.

HISTORY OF LOCAL BANKS

Bank Treasurer E. B. Carney
Addresses Lowell Life Underwriters' Association

Mr. Edward B. Carney, treasurer of the Lowell Institution for Savings, yesterday afternoon made an address at the regular monthly meeting of the Lowell Life Underwriters. Mr. Carney's address was both historical and instructive in its nature.

Referring to the beginning of savings institutions in this country, Mr. Carney said that after the close of the war of 1812, the government of the United States decided that it would take progressive steps to foster manufacturing throughout the country. In order that we as a people might not only produce but manufacture the goods which the population needed, appointed a commission of engineers to make a survey of the water power sites throughout the country that could be used for manufacturing purposes. Among other cities visited, surveyed and approved by them in this vicinity were Waltham, Lawrence and Lowell. This was on or about the year 1812, and in 1822 the Merrimack Manufacturing company started operations in Lowell. Thus was established the first manufacturing plant in a city which rapidly developed into one of the greatest textile manufacturing cities of this country, namely, our own city of Lowell.

The establishment of the textile industry naturally offered employment to many and as a sequence there was a demand for some sort of a bank where the savings of the operatives could be deposited. In the year 1829 the first bank was established in Lowell, namely, the Old Lowell National bank, quickly followed by the establishment of the first savings bank, the Lowell Institution for Savings in 1829. The latter was called an institution for savings as in those days the term savings bank had not been adopted. All of the early banks established for the deposit of the savings of the people were called institutions for savings. These institutions for savings for many years were the only banks of their kind and they grew in the confidence of the people and performed a service which has continued throughout many generations to be availed of by the vast bulk of the population for the deposit of such sums of money over and above the needs of the people as could be laid by in a savings fund.

Later on in 1850 the Five Cents Savings banks were established. The institutions for savings required the opening of an account with a deposit for $1. As there were many people who desired to open an account for even a smaller amount, there gradually came to be a demand for what afterwards became the Five Cents Savings bank. Today both the institutions for savings and the Five Cents Savings bank operate on practically the same basis, both accepting deposits of less than $1 from all who apply for a deposit book.

From the very beginning one of the cardinal principles of savings institutions was to offer the service of a savings depository to the people and the safety of the deposit was the first consideration and consequently the law guarded the form of investment in which the savings institutions could put the depositors' money. The principle of safety as inculcated in the early days applies with as great force and effect today as ever.

Yet these deposits do earn for the depositors substantial rates of interest and there being no stockholders whatever in the institutions for savings (being purely mutual savings) all the earnings above the small cost of conducting the bank are available for distribution in the form of dividends to the depositors. There is an exception of a certain amount, however, which the state has required shall be set aside as a guarantee fund and this guarantee fund must be 5 per cent and may be no more than 10 1/2 per cent of the deposits. These banks which have already a sufficient guarantee fund and which are mutual banks are thereby enabled to distribute all their earnings above the cost of operating the bank in dividends to the depositors.

Mr. Carney emphasized the great desire of the institutions for savings and the savings bank to co-operate with all agencies for thrift and saving in the community. He pointed out that the cost of running a savings bank, like the Lowell Institution for Savings, for example, whose deposits had now reached the sum of approximately $12,000,000, was less than one-half per cent of the sum of the bank's assets and although the bank served 16,000 depositors, the number of people employed to do so was only seven and consequently the service rendered to this very large number

ber of people was at comparatively nominal expense.

Referring to the recent splendid report of the savings banks as rendered to the department of banking, Mr. Carney said an interesting feature of the matter was 80 per cent of the gain in savings was made from January to about June, 1922. A development in the savings bank service to the community has been in the establishment of direct savings schemes in various forms. His bank, for instance, issued a folder which contained compartments in which might be deposited ten cent pieces to the number of 30. These then were to be brought to the bank and a book issued to the new depositor.

Christmas Savings clubs have been organized by the savings banks in many cases. This form of savings appeals to a great many and he noted that while the average savings bank depositor made his deposits at irregular intervals, it was possible and had been demonstrated by means of the Christmas club idea to secure depositors who would make their deposits at regular intervals, for instance, weekly. It appeared that there was something in the obligation which the depositor made himself which caused him to carry out the idea of weekly savings, were ordinarily deposits would be made at irregular intervals.

Mr. Carney also noticed in this connection that when these Christmas savings had matured, that about 30 per cent of them re-deposited their Christmas club check in the savings bank and thus increased their fund for the "rainy day." The habit of thrift formed through constant systematic savings is of incalculable benefit not only to the individual himself but to the community and every bank does every thing possible that it can to in every way encourage saving. Their principal object is to secure deposits and to induce the accumulation of a fund, the individual may find of service to him when the "rainy day" arrives.

In furtherance of this idea to encourage savings and as a supplement of the existing inducements and solely with that idea of securing savings deposits in mind, six of the savings banks in Massachusetts have availed themselves of the privilege accorded them by legislation in 1908 to write policies of life insurance, the premiums on which are deposited in monthly payments with the banks.

These six banks have the privilege of establishing any number of branches and the Lowell Institution for Savings is a branch agency for each of the six banks in this city. The principal idea is to secure deposits and to offer in conjunction therewith a life insurance policy which will at the end of a given period of time mature and which will be paid with the deposits of the depositor. The insurance policy is also paid in full in the event of the death of the depositor after the policy is issued and the first monthly premium payment made.

Mr. Carney said that he was glad of the privilege of meeting the Lowell life underwriters and to talk with them, as he realized that they, too, were engaged in a similar service of promoting thrift in the community and were rendering a valuable service in calling at the homes of people in the case of weekly premium insurance and in inculcating the doctrine of thrift by direct personal contact.

Although no reference was made of the fact by Mr. Carney to those who were present at the meeting, they realized that they were listening to the grandson of the man who organized the first commercial bank in Lowell in 1823 and the first institutions for savings in Lowell in 1829, namely, James G. Carney, first treasurer both of the Old Lowell National bank and of the Lowell Institution for Savings.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Carney at the conclusion of his address. At this meeting of the underwriters an election of officers for the ensuing year took place and the following are the board of officers for the new year:

President, James P. Heron; vice presidents, Daniel Doran, Clifton O. Leadbetter; secretary-treasurer, M. J. Brady; executive committee officers of the association, ex-officio, John McFadden, George H. Spillane, Deputy Supt. Nealon,

Use the homely root vegetables provided by nature for winter instead of demanding shipped, out-of-season delicacies.

JUST AN IDEA

The country isn't hearing much of the coal strike in the Pittston (Pa.) district. But 11,000 miners are on strike, and this photo shows a small section of them at a meeting where they listened to plans from union officials to return to work and arbitrate their grievances.

Put in a hot oven until crumbs are brown. This looks like a long, complicated rule, but it simmers down to parboiling the turnips, covering with the sauce and buttered crumbs and baking.
Baked Turnips
Four smooth medium-sized turnips, 1 small onion, 1 cup cold chopped meat, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 green pepper, bread crumbs.
Pare turnips. Cut a slice from top of each and scoop out as much of the inside as possible, leaving a shell about one-quarter inch thick. Sprinkle salt, pepper and a little lemon juice in each turnip and let it stand while preparing the filling.
Peel and mince onion. Melt butter, add onion and cook until a bright straw color. Add meat and mix thoroughly. Sift over flour and stir well. Add milk, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients. The pepper should be dipped in boiling water and the thin outer skin removed, then finely minced. Fill turnips with mixture. Cover with crumbs. Add with bits of butter and arrange in a shallow pan. Pour over boiling water to almost cover turnips, cover the dish and bake an hour in a moderate oven.

SITTIN' PRETTY?

WAS CORDIALLY GREETED IN SOMERVILLE

Deputy Grand Chancellor Elmer D. Robinson of this city made his first official visitation to Arandia lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Somerville, Wednesday evening and received a most cordial fraternal greeting. He was accompanied by a suite composed of Past Chancellor Edward R. Watts, Past Chancellor John A. Lamberton and Prelate Thomas R. Atkinson of Chevalier-Middlesex lodge. The rank of knight was exemplified in long form, after which brief addresses were made by the members of the Lowell delegation.

Deputy Grand Chancellor Robinson called the attention of the Somerville brethren to the fact that the motto of the Massachusetts domain for the present year is the Golden Rule, and he urged K.P.'s to exemplify it in their daily relations. Pythianism is not confined to the castle hall, he said, but should be a part of our every day life. The shortcomings of our brethren should be viewed in the spirit of Pythian charity, and we should rally stomach and make up your mind not to overeat again. Don't forget the little scissors, some safety pins and a ball of twine. Do it at once and practice safety first.

to their assistance in their hour of distress. He urged the members to work for a healthy growth of their lodge, but ever to maintain Pythian standards in that growth. Don't increase your membership by sacrificing those standards, he urged.

There was a large attendance of the Somerville members, as well as knights from Medford and Cambridge. Past Grand Chancellor Clifford B. Jones and Grand Master of Excelsior William F. Hamann were also present. A collection was served at the close of the meeting.

Your Health

by Dr. C.C. Robinson

THE EMERGENCY KIT

Prevention is the watchword in all ranks of health seekers. An emergency kit, home doctor or first aid outfit is a blessing. But a little advice on using it may be of help.

Cuts, scratches or bruises, lame

arms or sunburned shoulders may call for a little help and if you try to be too strenuous and overdo "the thing" you may have to take care of a severe case of fatigue or fainting. "Sick stomach," from overeating, is also down on the program and a summer cold may come your way unsought. This is about all unless you have a more severe case to attend to, such as a bad cut or wound which may require the use of a tourniquet.

For one kit:

One-half ounce tincture of iodine in a strong bottle, to be applied on cuts or wounds by means of a small swab made from a small stick and a tuft of cotton. Two-ounce carton of absorbent cotton. A spool of zinc oxide adhesive tape, one-inch wide. A large collapsible tube of plain petrolatum or zinc oxide or plain boric acid ointment. Any abrasure or burn from heat or acid or friction should be smeared with ointment and protected by small pieces of gauze held in place by tape.

Five or ten yards of bandages are also necessary, and are helpful in many ways. Also put in your kit a small vial of aromatic spirits of ammonia. A teaspoonful in two ounces of water (about one inch in a common drinking glass) is a good stimulant for fainting, nervous shock or collapse.

Use a sedlitz powder for your sick

THE AGE OF GOLF

"How old is golf?" promises to become as lively a question for topical debate on and off the favorite links here, there and elsewhere, as the old-time query: "How old is Ann?" The age of golf brings out the argumentative side, when the eighteenth hole has been reached and the players advance jovially to the nineteenth for rest and relaxation.

Golf is old—very old. Perhaps the day of its birth will never be known. But any good Vesper or Mr. Pleasant amateur, or Tommy C., the spry young general of the Longmeadow caddy brigade, will tell you that the original name of present-day "golf" was "kolf." It is a Dutch word for club.

The first golf balls, covered with leather and stuffed with feathers, were made in Holland. The game obtained almost a strangle hold in Scotland about the year 1157 A. D., and the government, wholly alarmed at the prospects, forbade the people to play the strange game—because it interfered with the practice of archery, the art of national defense.

Probably the oldest golf club in the world is that of old Blackheath, near London. It was organized in 1568, but the clubs were crude and the golf balls far from round or "saw haffles."

It was left for America to save the game as it should be played. Now there are in the 48 states some 5,000 courses—a majority of them of recent construction. More than 4,000,000 Americans are now playing the old Holland-Scotland combination. And, of course, America has also annexed most of the international championships, which shows what's what in modern golf. And more than one former caddy, harvesting myriads of vagrant tips, is a wealthy man today.

TO DROP RIVER PROJECT

It has been apparent to accurately informed government authorities in both Canada and the United States for some time that the plans for the proposed deepening of the St. Lawrence waterway were resting on a shaky table with no chairs drawn up very near it and many former advocates of the project missing in public debates concerning the subject.

Word now comes from Ottawa that Canadian supporters of the dominion's waterway project, have been given another decided setback by the government itself announcing that the dominion is not at present in a position to "consider the matter." It is probable that the project will be a dead issue for some years to come.

Former enthusiastic supporters of the river-deepening proposal, have always wanted money appropriated to at least start operations, but now the Hon. J. H. King, minister of public works, says Canada cannot possibly go ahead with it owing to lack of funds and too small a borrowing capacity at this time.

It is understood that the Ontario and Quebec governments have a plan to supplement the shipping scheme with a new hydro-power project. A program along this line, if carried through, has immense possibilities.

ACCIDENT FATALITIES

Sixty-eight persons were killed in automobile accidents in this state during the month of October, of whom fifty were adults and the remainder children. That was sixty-eight too many.

It is reported by Registrar Goodwin that there has been a reduction in the number of children killed this month as compared with the same month last year. It would be strange, indeed, if the efforts of Registrar Goodwin and all the safety campaigns conducted throughout the state together with all the appeals made through the newspapers against the danger of reckless driving, jay-walking and other foot hazard questions, were entirely unavailing. In spite of the reduction in the number of accident victims, the fact remains that the number of fatalities shows an alarming state of affairs. The average number killed is over two a day throughout the state. When the people come to their senses and exercise due caution on the highways, when reckless driving is stamped out and drunken drivers are placed behind the bars, we may see the number of victims for every month reduced at least by one-half.

LOWER PRICE OF GAS

It is announced that the city of Salem has been favored with a reduction of five cents per thousand cubic feet in the price of gas. Similar reductions have been reported from some other cities, and it would, therefore, seem that the time has arrived when the gas company of Lowell should join the list of companies that offer their product at a lower rate.

It is understood that as a result of negotiations between Mayor Debonav and the Gas company, some revision in the price of gas will be made in the near future. The Lowell company has always claimed that it sells gas at as low a figure as can be had in any other city similarly situated. The consumers do not care for the circumstances or the conditions that only look at the price per thousand cubic feet, and it is by that criterion they will judge as to whether they are getting gas at a reasonable price. The decision of the company is now awaited by the general public.

EDSON SCHOOL SITE

It is admitted that the site of the present Edson school is big enough on which to erect the kind of school-house needed in that district. The house needed is, to find quarters for the school while the new building is under construction. None of our present contractors will agree to erect the new building on the site of the old and leave the latter untouched until the new is ready for occupancy. Hence the park department would render a valuable service to the city if it should set apart a suitable site for the new school on Highland street, west of the present building, on condition that the site occupied by the old Edson shall be cleared and turned over to the park commission as soon as the new structure is ready for occupancy. That would mean a change of site without taking any more land away from the common.

MORE POLICE OFFICERS

For some time past there has been complaint that certain local police beats were not properly covered; and the reason was, that the department did not have men enough for the purpose.

The addition of ten additional men will enable the department to cover all the beats more effectively; and the outskirts of the city will not be slighted. This addition to the local police force will doubtless increase the efficiency of the department. The public safety committee, Mayor Donovan and Councilor Sadlier, who made the motion, are to be commended for this addition to the force responsible for the maintenance of law and order throughout the city.

INFLATED VALUES

In 1914 it cost, roughly, 124 million dollars to run the city government of New York. The budget for 1923 is over 375 millions. This is only 158 millions in terms of 1914, for the dollar's buying power is about half what it was in 1914. Government has to pay more for what it gets, same as the rest of us.

All the more reason this for economy. Debts contracted by government now may be paid off later when a cyclic period of lower prices may make the dollar worth twice as much as at present. Did it ever occur to you that a general return to pre-war prices would, in effect, double our national, city and state debts?

INCOME TAX

If your income this year is large enough for Uncle Sam's income tax but not over $5000, the tax blank you will have to fill out will be a single sheet instead of the former six-page document. Directions will be simpler and clearer, the Internal Revenue bureau promises the four million who will use the form.

The simpler forms are O. K. The income tax law should also be simplified. Drawn up by lawyers, it is so complicated it has made work for nearly the whole legal profession. That is the intention with most of our laws.

DEATH TOLL

The World War caused the deaths of 11 million people, according to the final figures gathered by the Academy of Moral and Political Science of France.

While the war was going on, several times that many were killed by the diseases resulting from normal congestion and other unnatural living conditions of "civilization." Flu alone killed more than the war, and in less time.

THE APPLE CROP

Did you know that this year's crop of apples is the biggest our country ever had? The total? About two bushels for every man, woman and child.

Here is over-production, if there ever was such a thing. If a student of economics, do not neglect to price apples. You will learn something about the law of supply and demand—supply little, demand much.

FRANCE IS JUSTIFIED

France stands firmly upon the justice of her claim for reparations against Germany and her right to compel Germany to pay. She doubts the ability of any body of experts to determine from Germany's present condition what Germany will be able to pay when she overcomes her present troubles and attains prosperity. France is not willing to relinquish her claim to reparations against a prosperous Germany. Who can blame her?

Ku Klux Klan war grows apace at Atlanta, Ga., where the imperial wizard and klan emperor are in conflict and divers klan officials appeal to the courts to protect them against the brand of justice meted out by P. H. Fox, editor of the "Knight Hawk," when he shot down Lawyer Cohn, who was employed to conduct a suit against klan officials. These are the patriots who have set out to teach the nation "genuine Americanism."

Those who heard Edgar Guest here were surprised that he made such a wicked attack on a well known young man as he did in referring to the "wealthiest man in the world having a son who is not worth a nickel." Besides, so far as can be learned, that is a grossly unjust charge, something of which a poet should not be guilty.

The defeat of Hearst in New York seems to eliminate him as a factor in the national election. The Tammany judiciary candidates to which Hearst was opposed won by a margin that seems to have smashed the Hearst machine beyond repair in the near future.

The late Jerry Corbitt had a sensible policy on Irish matters. It was, "got all you can without sacrificing the country or the people and leave the rest to the future." That is the policy that was followed by Irish leaders from O'Connell to Redmond.

Altering His Views

It becoming necessary to make certain repairs, the interior of the drug-store was considerably upset. Shelf bottles were moved at the rear of the store, showcases were shifted and chairs were piled upon tables. A large postcard rack was moved badly to the sidewalk, where it was noticeable to say the least. "What's this for doc?" inquired an acquaintance who happened along. "Just airing my views," explained the druggist, playfully.

A RH Absent-Minded

Of two friends staying at an English hotel where most keys fit most doors, one went off to bed, undressed and turned in, making his friend's room for his own. Half an hour later the friend followed, saw his bed was occupied, and returned to the coffee room. "Did you see me go to my room just now?" he said to the night porter. "Yes sir," was the reply. "Well, then, why didn't you tell me I'd gone to bed already?" he grunted, and continued to finish his night on a chair in front of the fire.

Remembered the Rehearsal

A sergeant of the old school had on one occasion to reprimand a recruit for being dirty and unshaven on parade and gave him a good talking, much to the latter's dismay. The same night it happened that both the sergeant and the recruit were on guard, and while the sergeant was watching round the various outposts as usual after "lights out," he came to the recruit, who allowed him to pass without a challenge. "Why didn't you challenge me?" asked the sergeant angrily. "Didn't you hear me approaching your post?" "Yes," replied the recruit. "But after your abrupt manner this morning I thought we were no longer on speaking terms."

A Daily Creed

"Let me be a little kinder, let me be a little blinder. To the faults of those about me, let me praise a little more. Let me be, when I am weary, just a little bit more cheery. Let me serve a little better those whom I am striving for. Let me be a little braver when temptation bids me waver. Let me strive a little harder to be all that I should be. Let me be a little meeker with the brother who is weaker. Let me think more of my neighbor and a little less of me."

In a statement issued recently, one of the largest automobile manufacturing companies states that the total number of their machines sold during the month of October was well over 30,000. It is not so many years ago that this number was well over the year's production for all of the automobile manufacturing companies in this country.

An admirable exhibition of interfraternity spirit was displayed by four well known local organizations this week, the K. of C., the Girls' City club, the Y.M.C.A. and the Leather Workers' union, who voluntarily offered the use of their rooms to the members of the Stowell Temperance institute, whose headquarters were destroyed by the fire in the Fiske block in Central street last Sunday. When it became known that the famous temperance society was without a meeting place, each of the organizations mentioned got in touch with the officers and declared that their rooms could be used until new quarters were secured. The Stowell association the invitations extended and hope to be able to return the favor in good measure.

BEAUTIFUL PRESENTATION HERE OF "FABIOLA"

"Fabiola," the world famous historical and religious story from the pen of Nicholas Cardinal Wiseman, was vividly shown on the screen yesterday afternoon and evening at the Memorial Auditorium under the auspices of the Oldtime Fathers of St. Joseph's parish.

The story, the scene of which is laid in Rome and the Catacombs or Mars' great tombs, deals with the terrible persecution under Maximian Herculeus, Pontifex Maximus, in the year 302, when all roads led to Rome, and at a time when paganism ruled supreme. The opening scene is at the home of Fabius, wealthy Roman who is giving a feast in honor of Faustus, foreign spy who is upon the track of the "Christian" dogs. Fabiola, beautiful Roman lady and daughter of Fabius, is being prepared for the feast by her maid Syra, once wealthy lady and later sold into slavery by her brother Faustus, who, because of his lust for money, accuses his sister of being a Christian and sells her into bondage. Agnes, cousin to Fabiola, and a Christian, enters her cousin's chamber and is invited to the feast. Faustus, upon meeting Agnes, tries to win her confidence that he may later make it public that she is a Christian.

Corvinus, son of the Roman prefect, invites Torquatus, a Christian, to join them. Torquatus, not being willing to join his enemies so readily, is brought to the torture chamber and shown the various means of torture which await the Christians. He yields and promises to show the soldiers the way to the Catacombs.

That Lady Agnes is a Christian is known throughout the city and the emperor orders an edict posted upon the walls of the palace. Sebastian, a Christian soldier in the army of the emperor, and Pancratius, also a Christian, tear down the edict and an insurrection is caused. An order to kill the Christians and burn their homes is given out and a mad rush is made to plunder the homes of the "dogs."

Meanwhile, Fabiola and Agnes have gone to Nemi and in the quiet of the beautiful town bear nothing of the raging persecution. Faustus and Corvinus, hearing that Agnes is at Nemi, plan to go there and arrest her. They are preceded by Pancratius and Sebastian, but the latter are fooled by their attempt to save Agnes and she is arrested.

During one of the services held daily in the Catacombs, Torquatus leads the soldiers in and they capture several Christians. While on the way out, Cecilia, also a Christian and blind, is seen and stoned to death. The soldiers pick her up and bring her to the river edge and throw her into the water. Torquatus, who happens along at this time, is stricken with remorse, and cries "Blind Cecilia, dead, and I am her murderer."

Pancratius is the next to be persecuted and he is thrown in the arena and devoured by a mad panther.

Another touching scene was that of Tarsus, a youth of 11 years who offers to bring the Blessed Host to the prisoners who are on the Mamertine awaiting persecution. He is given permission and leaves on his journey. The Hosts contained in a ciborium.

Retain Your Clothing

The man who keeps his shirt on
Is the fellow who is wise,
He'll get along for certain
Better far than hasty guys.
When there's any trouble brewing
He'll be safer than the wight
Who gets red of eye and stewing
And who's spoiling for a fight.

The man who keeps his shirt on
May, at seasons, have to scrap.
There are things you can't avert on
Some occasions; but the chap
Who, though angry, keeps his balance
And is calm throughout the fray,
Can use all his fighting talents
In the most effective way.

And in ordinary cases
And the steady run of life,
He who keeps his temper faces
Very little storm or strife;
And I venture to assert on
Most occasions which I note,
That the man who keeps his shirt on Seldom has to shed his coat!
(Copyright, 1923, The Lowell Sun)

clashed close to his heart. He is stopped, however, and clonked to death by the Romans, yet, still clasping the Blessed Sacrament close to his heart, Lady Agnes is then sought out and when brought before the court and given another opportunity to save her life by marrying Faustus, signs herself with the sign of Christianity and makes known her desire to die and go to her God, her Redeemer and her Saviour. At this juncture, Sebastian, the Roman soldier, comes forth and also gives himself up. Quadratus, Roman centurion, when ordered to take his man in charge, also makes known that he is a Christian. The emperor, horrified at such declarations, orders Lady Agnes to be beheaded.

The play then comes to a hasty conclusion, the climax being when Faustus, once having known Agnes, becomes a humble, charitable Christian. Music specially written for the presentation by Alexander Henneman was played by an orchestra augmented for the occasion while various religious numbers were rendered, including the "Credo," by a choir composed of singers from the various church choirs of the French parishes under the direction of Rudolph Popin, organist at St. Jean Baptiste church.

PROBE KILLING OF KLAN ATTORNEY AT ATLANTA

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 8.—With accusations made by Joseph Simmons, emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, that Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the order, "remains in hiding," and the announcement from Indianapolis that Wizard Evans will address a Klan meeting at Fort Wayne, Ind., tomorrow, those interested in Klan affairs await with interest a statement regarding the killing of W. S. Cohn, Klan attorney which Milton Elrod, editor of the Flery Cross, a Klan publication, announced Wizard Evans would make at Fort Wayne. Elrod's statement last night denied Emperor Simmons' charges and declared Wizard Evans had been in conference with Klan officials in the east. Emperor Simmons declared that newspapermen and klansmen were "unable to find any responsible head at palace headquarters willing to meet those entitled to information. Continuation of the investigation of the killing of Cohn by P. E. Fox, Klan publicity man, and the proceeding with defense work by Mrs. Fox, marks the only development since the indictment of Fox on a charge of murder. He refuses to talk, and the motive for the killing remains unknown. The prosecution has announced the trial probably will begin next week.

AMERICAN LEGION BALL

Grand Military Concert and Ball Under Auspices of Lowell Post

All roads lead to Memorial Auditorium tonight, the drawing card being the second grand military concert and ball arranged under the energetic auspices of Lowell post, American Legion.

The advance sales of tickets, the eager interest created by wide advertising of the coming event and assurances received by the general committee of arrangements that distinguished soldiers of the old line and the new, with numerous city, county and state officials, will be present to lend support to the evening's attractive event always of close public interest.

Indicates an attendance of Legionnaires and friends that may tax the capacity of the new Auditorium.

Lavish decorations installed in grand foyer and main auditorium and also in the Veterans' quarters by expert decorators are now in place. The Auditorium has been transformed into a focal point made more beautiful by numerous displays of American flags in effective drapings. The balcony front is partly hidden by long ropes of evergreen, triple-festooned flags and banks of flowers of many hues.

The upper walls of the Auditorium are brilliantly alight with flags draped in half-circle style, with a large National emblem dropping in the center of each festoon. The orchestra platform is hidden by a three-foot bank of evergreen and laurel, novelty checkered on the front mass with roses and other floral products.

Novel lighting effects have also been installed, which will add to the beauty of the scene tonight when the legion guests arrive to participate in the second annual veterans' social function. Dr. Joseph L. Kearney is the head of the committee on decorations and had direct charge of both the Auditorium and Liberty hall enticing decorations. Lowell post members will entertain many prominent guests tonight. Invitations have been sent to Governor Channing Cox, Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Congressman John Jacob Rogers and Commander Edwards of the state legion organization. Senior Vice Commander Goode of Cambridge has promised to be present, and numerous commanders and members of other local military organizations and veterans' posts in city and county, as well as well known city and eight guests, have promised to be on hand and partake of Lowell American Legion hospitality. Minor Doyle's orchestra is to play throughout the evening, with a full complement of musicians. The special catering service for refreshments will be continued throughout the evening.

As was the case last year, this year's military event will be formal and there will be a shining array of full dress uniforms in evidence when the grand march starts.

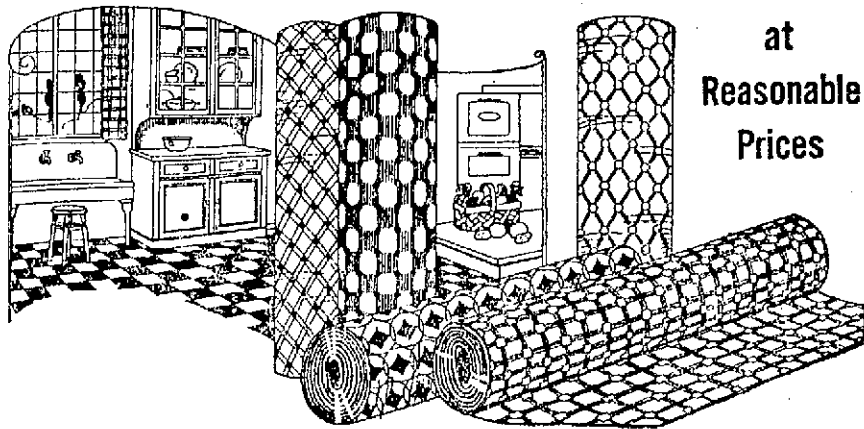

Commander Joseph A. Molloy of Lowell post has handled efficiently many of the committee activities leading up to tonight's second observance of Armistice day. He has had a vigorous working personnel on every hand and acknowledged the public's deep interest in the success of the coming social function. Tickets for the event have been sold rapidly all over the city and county.

The legionnaires on the military ball general committees are as follows: General manager, Joseph A. Molloy; assistant general managers, Colin C. Macdonald and George McCarthy; treasurer, Joseph M. Hume; adjutant, Robert J. Rutledge; floor man-

Dear Doctor—I take pleasure in stating the upper artificial plates which you inserted for me are giving first-class satisfaction. They feel and look so life-like that they are scarcely noticeable from natural ones. I can highly recommend your work to all desiring first-class dentistry.

S. B. WATSON, Westford, Mass.

J. HENRY FAGAN, D. D. S.:

Dear Doctor—It is with pleasure I write of the satisfaction of the work which I recently had done by you. The restoration of teeth in my case is so perfect that I cannot distinguish them from the natural. Your method is far superior to any other method and I would recommend it to anyone desiring teeth restored.

Home Made Cough Mixture Considered Best

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes,
Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly

Costs But a Trifle

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home-made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

It's fine for chest colds too and for acute nasal catarrh. Get from any druggist one ounce of Eucalypti double strength—this adds a little exfoliated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice one easily substance in this home-made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn laryngeal cough to cease almost instantly. No other, slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient. And remember—any remedy that overcomes coughs, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and ear-throat troubles. Get better and get better—Adv.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause. A complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leachman was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leachman tried it in his cases with the marvelous record of success in 25 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a name of his own guarantee. Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Green's drug store today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails—Adv.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Cornelius O'Keefe and Harry Weinstein were arrested early today after a wild motor car chase through upper Manhattan streets, during which they sought to escape by ramming several taxicabs in which police pursued.

Bullets were fired at the fleeing cab, which was stopped when Weinstein was shot in the leg with which he operated the clutch.
The pair, accompanied by a third man, who escaped, police said, attempted a gunless holdup of the Mogul Taxicab Co. offices.

FORECAST FOR 1924 ANOTHER PERIOD OF RECORD-BREAKING FREIGHT TRAFFIC

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (By the Associated Press).—Forecasting for 1924 another period of such record-breaking freight traffic as the United States has experienced in the year just passing, two national organizations of executives of the foremost railroads yesterday adopted an ambitious program of financial and physical expansion in the next 12 months.

session at the Yale club this morning and later by heads of the 194 class 1 roads which comprise the Association of Railway Executives.

It contemplates the aggregate expenditure—exclusive of what appropriations may be contained in the 1924 budgets—of $243,894,000 already authorized for new locomotives, cars and equipments. This would bring total capital expenditures of Class I roads since 1922 to $1,732,616,335—a high precedent in the history of American transportation for any similar period. Although the program did not specify the total capital expenditures for 1924 that might be written in the budgets of individual roads, it expressed complete satisfaction with the reports of the billion and a half dollar plan for expansion embarked upon last spring. The goals set then had been nearly attained; many traffic records had been smashed to carry the freight of an era of industrial prosperity; such new equipment had been acquired, and old equipment restored to service; car shortages had been few; traffic congestions rare and embargoes almost eliminated. All these accomplishments the A.R.A. and the A.R.E. pointed out in adopting the program today were due principally to a new spirit of unity between the railroads and of co-operation between the roads and the public. The program for 1924 is a bid for further expansion toward the goal of maximum efficiency, accompanied by more perfect team work between the roads, their patrons, and the general public. The roads pledged themselves to: Continued intensive effort to reduce the percentage of locomotives and cars awaiting repairs and maintain it at the lowest possible minimum consistent with the volume of business offered and the revenues the roads are permitted to earn. Increased supervision by the roads and greater co-operation with shippers to attain fuller utilization of capacity. Continued intensive effort to increase the average daily movement per freight car, and to set new records for prompt movement of traffic. Thorough consideration of the possibilities of a more extensive interchange of joint facilities.

Continued complete co-operation of the roads through the car service division of the American Railway Association, which provides a central control and distribution of freight cars between various railways and territories. Active support to all phases of the work of regional shippers' advisory boards of road executives and customers organized to solve mutual traffic problems. Accompanying the program approved was the following resolution, which also was passed by both of the railroad associations: "Calling attention to the large capital expenditures made in 1923 for equipment and other transportation facilities, almost entirely from borrowed money, and to the necessity in the public interest of the continuation of similar expenditures in the future if the needs of the country are to be met, the railroads reaffirm their faith that the American people, the agencies of the government, state and nation, who have the final voice in controlling railroad revenues and expenses, recognize that the continuation of an adequate program for transportation service depends upon such net income to the railroads as will permit a fair return upon the property now devoted to the public service, and will make it possible to secure new capital which is imperatively needed. Notwithstanding the unprecedented volume of traffic successfully handled this year, the railroads have earned not even the moderate net return contemplated."

meeting of alleged anti-Fascists in this city, if it is a possible thing. Reports that campaign speakers representing the "Anti-Fascist Alliance of North America" were endeavoring to hire a hall in Lowell for a meeting next Sunday, have aroused local labor union representatives, who declare that organization is entirely communist or socialist with a Bolshevik label.

Officials of the trades and labor council have been making a rigid inquiry into the movement of the anti-Fascists and found that a local hall had been practically engaged for a socialistic rally next Sunday. Labor representatives visited the owner of the hall and explained the object of the coming meeting. The hall will not be opened Sunday for the use of the organization protested.

The trades and labor council, in a formal statement, declares that American workmen will not deal with the Fascist movement and denounces the campaign to organize such groups in this country as evidence of hostility to democratic institutions.

Labor representatives opposed to the holding of any such gatherings in Lowell by groups of men bent upon spreading the doctrines of communism under strange-sounding labels, declared today that it has always been the policy of the American Federation of Labor to oppose all forms of ultra-radicalism in dealing with both the workers and capitalist groups, and for that reason they feel that any such meeting arranged to spread the doctrines of either the Fascist or the anti-Fascist organizations would be harmful to public peace and prosperity and should be prevented by properly constituted authorities.

EDUCATION OF YOUTH IN DEMOCRACY

The title of the next lecture in the Parker course on Sunday afternoon, at the Memorial Auditorium, is "The Education of All the Youth in a Democracy." The lecturer is President William M. Lewis of George Washington University, who for a long time was educational expert for the United States chamber of commerce. Dr. Lewis has had a wide experience in educational matters and is a forceful and interesting speaker.

For 20 minutes before and 20 minutes after the lecture, there will be song recitals by the University Double quartet, composed of eight Harvard students with remarkable voices. This group is led by Mr. Joseph Lautner. Tickets for this Sunday afternoon series are still available and may be obtained free upon application to Parker lectures, Drawer 1201, at the Lowell postoffice.

STRIKING R. R. MEN REFUSE TO YIELD

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 8.—Striking firemen and engineers on the Virginian railway, who gave no indication today of yielding in their dispute with the company, which resulted in the walkout yesterday, face permanent dismissal from service unless they report for duty by 8 a. m. tomorrow. This ultimatum was issued by C. H. Hix, vice president, last night, to the strikers whose number was estimated by railroad officials as between 400 and 500, or about two-thirds of the company's engine crews.

Hix said the railroad labor board, which had ordered the men to delay action in the dispute over the discharge of several employees pending a hearing before it, Nov. 14, had authorized him to do anything necessary to continue operation of the road.

In Great Britain the women exceed the men by nearly 2,000,000.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well known tonic for the blood. This strengthbuilder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor, and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, tablets or liquid. Send 10c for trial pkg.—Adv.

GREAT TO BE WELL AGAIN HE SAYS

Years of Suffering Passed. Troubles Relieved by Dreco

Mr. E. M. Church, 14 Carson street, Lowell, Mass., says:

"I worried myself sick over my health. I grew thin and nervous. My face was yellow and cheeks sunken. Constipation had poisoned my system, sapping its strength and energy. I couldn't get rid of it.

"My sleepless nights when I lay there wishing for daylight made things worse. I couldn't eat without suffering pains from indigestion. And Gastritis doubled me up in cramps.

"Pains in my back and limbs made it agony for me to work. I tried many remedies and treatments, hoping that could find something that would help my condition. But all of them failed. I started taking Dreco and soon began to feel better. This great medicine drove away every sign of stomach trouble, indigestion, gave me strength, cleared constipation and made me healthy. It has made a new person of me. And I hope that everyone will benefit by its wonderful restorative powers."

Dreco is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

HARVARD-PRINCETON CLASH FEATURE OF FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

LOWELL HIGH EXPECTS TO GIVE HAVERHILL HARD BATTLE ARMISTICE DAY

"Fight, Fight, Fight for Lowell High!" is the battle slogan of the football representatives and the general student-body of the local high school as the season's big game with Haverhill high next Monday afternoon approaches. Enthusiasm among the students is at a high pitch. The corridors of the high school are decorated with bunting and several hundred tickets for the game have been disposed of. Lowell fans will wear badges of red and gray, the official school colors, and will attend the game in a body, transportation being made by trucks, especially chartered for this occasion. Yesterday at Alumni field, the squad went through a stiff scrimmage which lasted over an hour, with Coach Linton and Assistant Coach Brown giving the men a number of important pointers on how to smear Haverhill plays.

The coaches feel that Lowell's backfield is fully as strong as Haverhill's, now that Taplin has been shifted behind the line. Gibbons, Calkins and Casey will fill the halfback positions and Capt. Sheehan will be seen at quarterback. The latter played a sweet game against Concord high last Saturday and appears to have rounded out into his old-time form.

Lowell's line, with Honan, O'Neill, Barron, Ryan, Herron, Higgins, Sutherland, Cavanaugh, Kosololek, Sharkey and other stars, promises to make Haverhill work hard for openings.

Higgins, who has been playing at right guard in most of the games this season, is one of the best bats in the local line. He knows how to protect his position from invasion and is a giant for strength, as well as a bear on how to smear Haverhill plays.

MILITARY FORCES CRUSHED

SOMEBODY IS JOSHING THE DRIVING CLUB

The mysterious "Mr. Hobart of Lowell" has local horsemen and Golden Cove track familiar with excitement once more—all that is, with the exception of the jockey club, who say that "Mr. Hobart of Lowell" is a myth of the purest quality and not worth talking about.

Somebody has been writing to Frank Trot, Boston horse editor, charitably vamping out strange tidings about the future prospects of the Lowell Driving Club. The Trot weekly columns of horse items have more than once contained alleged news items from Lowell, said items being generally signed by someone who said names never heard of in these parts, let alone local horse circles.

When the odd names appeared tucked on to misstatements regarding Lowell track enthusiasts might improve conditions by going outside the local boundaries and buying land for a new race course, they reacted somewhat down in the Middleton street clubhouse circles. "A. L. Trotter" was signed to one letter, containing pungent criticisms of Lowell Driving Club methods of running horse races at Golden Cove and offering suggestions in line with a new deal all around.

Last Monday morning in the Trot columns appeared more fulsome criticism about the Lowell race track situation, with the name of "P. J. Hobart" signed to this one. Not a member of the local club knows a "P. J. Hobart," but one or two others in town, but no "P. J." The driving club met informally last Tuesday evening and those present swore they think someone is kidding them.

Some of the members think they know who is putting over the anonymous stuff in outside publications, evidently aiming to stir up trouble in local club circles. The latest yarn issued by the mysterious "P. J." is to the effect that land has already been selected for a new track, back for the Lowell club, a mile in area, so the story reads, composed of clay and loam and situated not far from the outskirts of the city.

According to the far-in-the-back-ground "P. J." the land could be bought and a track and complete housing equipment constructed for a cost of $25,000. "P. J." informs the public that one-half of this small fortune had already been subscribed toward the new track project, but that the rest will be fully subscribed "when the next meeting is held on the first Monday in January."

This same mysterious man explained that the cost of enlarging the present short half mile track at the Cove would be prohibitive, driving club faithfuls now believe that someone is trying to get over a deal to dispose of some land, but real estate experts have been doing that for years and say that there is no place around near Lowell except where a new track is being laid out, that could be constructed and proper arrangements instituted to make the track serviceable for genuine racing.

BY BILLY EVANS

THE QUESTION

The football coach is not satisfied with the way the player calling the signals is selecting his plays. At a certain critical stage of the game, during certain plays to be tried he sends in another player to do the calling of signals. The player sent in to replace the one who has been calling signals, as the coach desires this player to continue in the game, the right to call the signals is to be vested in another player. Is it possible for the player sent into the game to be immediately take up the work of calling the signals after reporting to the proper official? It so happens that he is sent into the game on the fourth down and the question as to what course to pursue is debatable.

THE ANSWER

A player may be substituted for another at any time. He must immediately report to the referee or umpire. When a player is substituted he must not communicate in any way with any of the players on the field until after the ball has been put into play. When a player is sent into the game to give signals and the man who has been giving them is not removed, the substituted player cannot give the signals until one play has been completed after he has reported to the official. The signals for this play must be given by the player who was the original selection for that duty and who still continues in the game. The idea of this is to prevent a coach from sending a new player in to give the signals for a certain play at a critical stage of the game. One play must elapse before such a player can take up his duties as the giver of signals.

AS TO PENALTIES

Failure of a substitute to report to the proper official carries with it the penalty of a loss of five yards. A player who has been substituted during the second half may not return to the game. If a player illegally returns and it is discovered, the player shall be suspended from the game and his team loses half the distance to the goal from the spot of the down where the illegal substitution was made.

If a player illegally substituted takes part in a number of plays before the error is discovered, the penalty shall be enforced from the spot where it was discovered.

THOMAS WINS OVER CURRY

New Bedford Boy Gets Decision Over New Yorker in Closely Contested Bout

Campi Beats Young Traversers in Good Semi-Final—Friedman to Meet Sheppard

Tony Thomas, of New Bedford was awarded the decision over Frankie Curry of New York in the main event of the Moody club show in Crescent rink last night. The fight was hard fought and very closely contested. The majority agreed with the decision of the judges, but a small minority favored Curry.

A flash in the last two rounds by the New York boy gained him favor, but it came too late to wipe out the lead set up by the Whaler in the early stages of the fight.

Thomas proved a fast, long range fighter, while Curry gained most of his points at inching. Thomas' facility to use Curry and to clinch when danger loomed, saved him much punishment, but incurred the displeasure of the fans.

As the bout progressed the battlers brought into play every maneuver of the game. Once in the early part of the fight Thomas hit Curry, while the latter had one knee on the floor and later he came back to clinch when danger loomed, saved him much punishment, but incurred the displeasure of the fans.

The semi-final was a well contested and while Thomas had the advantage and was clearly entitled to the award his margin of victory was not as wide as a barn door or as deep as a well. It was close, very close.

The semi-final was a great fight, in fact it was a more vigorous and slashing bout than the main event. Eddie Campi of Lynn and Young Mike Traversers of New Bedford were the principals. They were a strenuous pair, the veteran Campi tore at his youthful opponent in the early rounds, but Traversers showed remarkable gameness and assimilative powers and took all that Campi gave and returned for more. In the closing rounds Traversers rallied and stepped to the front with a slashing array of hooks and jabs. He gave Campi no quarter and stood in there toe to toe and exchanged heavy punches.

Campi's early lead, however, was too formidable to overcome and the decision in his favor was correct, yet many greeted him with jeers. Traversers' hard work brought him a host of admirers and he left the ring amid great applause.

There was but one preliminary, the fight being omitted because one of the boys scheduled to perform failed to show up. The one that was provided could also have been scratched and no one would have missed it. It was a bout between a local boy, Buddy Dolan, one of the principals, was out of condition and he proved easy picking for Willie Rose of Montreal.

It was announced that Abe Friedman of Boston and Johnny Sheppard of Woburn will appear in the main event next week. Tommy Fall, former national amateur flyweight champion, will make his professional debut in the semifinal.

Lost Tough Game. Then there was Sad Sam Jones who allowed only four hits in the game he worked, yet lost 1 to 6. One ball beat Jones. A blow curve ball that beat him was lifted into the right field bleachers at the Yankee Stadium. It was a control masterfully failed him.

Who did the best pitching for the Yankees? Joe Bush was a wonder. Never during the season did Bush show more stuff than in the classic. In addition he put much thought back of every ball pitched. When Bush has a fast ball, he is a ball man to beat. The folk ball is a freak delivery, the ball being held between two fingers on the pitching hand. The ball takes a peculiar break. Bush was master of the folk ball in the world series.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis will take no part in controversies that may arise during the joint major-minor league baseball meeting here next month, he has announced. ## THOUSANDS OF FOOTBALL FANS TO PACK PARKS AND PLAYING FIELDS IN EAST TOMORROW

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (By the Associated Press).—Although the eastern football schedule for Saturday does not list a meeting of undefeated eleven, there will be no dearth of engagements between powerful football rivals and thrilling contests, with the possible garnishment of an upset or two, are in prospect for the hundreds of thousands of football followers who will pack the parks and playing fields. In general interest, the annual meeting of Harvard and Princeton, opening the yearly series among the so-called big three universities, outtranks all other, but engagements involving three of the five remaining unbeaten teams of this season will be followed with almost equal concern. In each instance opponents of demonstrated or potential strength will face them.

Cornell, regarded by many as the most powerful array in the east, has Columbia as its opponent, and although the Columbia record is not an impressive one, Columbia is coached by Percy Haughton, an acknowledged master of football play, who has made a study of the Harvard offensive tactics and has prepared special defenses to meet them. How successful his defensive plans will prove remains to be seen, but many believe the Harvardians are in for a much more difficult engagement than they expect. The letting loose for the fifth time in their football relations, Cornell having been victorious in seven of the past engagements and Columbia in three.

Yale, another of the undefeated eleven, will have Maryland as its playmate on Saturday. The latter has lost one game this season to Virginia Polytechnic institute. It inflicted on Pennsylvania the single defeat suffered by Lou Young's eleven and may rise to great heights against the Blue Devils, a third member of the small, select circle of unvanquished teams, has Boston university as its opponent. The latter, after a poor start, evidenced considerable strength in beating Colby last week, and has since regained the services of several strong players who have been injured. It has a puzzling attack and in past seasons has upset many powerful eleven.

West Virginia, still another eleven which has yet to taste defeat, will confront Washington & Lee on Saturday, while Washington & Jefferson, the remaining member of the undefeated group, has Wayneburg as its foe. In each case, the record of the lesser team is not considered formidable nor indicative of a possible upset. The Dartmouth-Iron, Pennsylvania-Lafayette and Williams-Wesleyan contests and the intersectional games involving Army and Arkansas Aggies, Boston College and Centenary, North Carolina and Georgia Tech, and St. Xavier, Penn State and Georgia Tech, and Detroit and Carnegie Tech, are among the promising battles of Saturday which eastern football enthusiasts will closely follow.

LOCAL FOOTBALL FIELDS WILL BE SCENE OF GREAT ACTIVITY ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Lowell Textile's football squad went through its last practice session on the campus this afternoon in preparation for the game with Providence college at Providence tomorrow. The squad shaped up well, especially in forward passing, an attack which the coaches hope to use with success against the Providence men.

Lowell will enter tomorrow's game with a determination to atone for a 13 to 0 defeat sustained against Providence in this city last year. All the first-string men will start in the game, while the substitutes will be ready at a minute's notice to step in and do their bit. The squad leaves this city tomorrow morning by auto.

The Belvideres have been practicing all week in the high school gym and they are in tip top form for the battle. The Belvideres are confident that they will win Saturday and plan to issue a challenge to the O.M.I. Cadets for a championship game.

The Belvideres will pick their team from the following well known players: Desmond, Turcotte, Heathcote, Norman, P. Bernier, Donnellan, Gleason, Huey, White, Kempton, E

No Form, Yet They Are Champions

HARRY GREB

JOHNNY DUNDEE

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Of course, it's best to have "form." Willie Hoppe has it in billiards and is a master. Bobby Jones has it in golf and is called America's most notable contribution to the sport. No ball player ever had better form than Nap Lajoie in field or at bat. Lajoie will always rank with the immortals.

So if you play your favorite sport according to a specific technique you are on the right track.

If you don't—well, maybe you are on the right track anyway.

No golfer ever won a major form off the tee than Ted Ray, the giant Briton, who won the American open championship at Toledo in 1920. He fore at the ball with a lash and smash that was startling. At the end of his swing he would be towering perilously on the tip of his left toe. You expected to see him go tumbling to the earth on his expansive back. But he didn't. His drives sailed through the air with tremendous force and unwavering accuracy. No other player drove better, or as far. Yet he was utterly without form, as form is known in golf.

Form in the Ring

You are supposed to respect the teachings of form in the prize ring. Most all the champions have been furnished with this respect. Jim Corbett had beautiful form, and set the style for Americans. Also Alvin, Willie Lewis, Rocky, McFarland, Mike Gibbons, Jack Britton and Johnny Kilbane were interesting performers in action. Next numbers, deft blockers, flashy foot-workers. They did their work well and properly.

Form is not without its enthusiastic supporters in the ring today. You will travel a long and circuitous road before you find a more fervent lover of form than the average fan. As a matter of fact, Jack Dempsey has no matchless form. We never saw a fighter who could get more power behind a short blow. You never hear that Dempsey has hurt his hands. That's proof of his correct hitting form.

Now for the boys who have no form at all and yet are on top. Johnny Dundee is the featherweight champion of the world. Dundee ignores all the established fundamentals. Does nothing according to Queensberry. Has a clownish style and is what is known as a bad hitter. Yet he's a world champion. And a deserving one. Two years ago he was good enough to hold his own with Kilbane when the Cleveland Irishman was in his prime.

"Formless" Champions

Harry Greb is another world champion who disdains the accepted canons of the cauliflower trade. The Pittsburgh middleweight is just as much of a freak as Dundee. In some respects they are somewhat alike. Eternally aggressive, their winning chance lies mainly in a reckless attack. The old-timers frown on Greb. "He can't hit. He doesn't know what a counter is. He has no defense."

Possibly. Yet he's the world champion in bantamweight. The 110-lb. southern bantamweight, also belongs to the freak class. Moore never held a title, though he whipped four bantamweight champions. Kid Williams, Johnny Eric, Pete Herman and Joe Lynch. Moore was an acrobatic bullfinch in the ring. His penchant for bounding off the ropes at the slightest provocation added to his uniqueness.

Moore's ring mannerisms were even more pronounced than those of Dundee and Greb. He got his ideas about fighting from watching negro minstrel acts go through their comicalities in free-for-all fights down in Tennessee.

BILL GUTHRIE
UNIQUE UMPIRE

By BILLY EVANS

Umpiring is a rather colorless profession. It is the duty of the umpire to call the plays as he sees them. When the ball is delivered by the pitcher to the batsman it is either a ball or strike and the base runners are either out or safe. The work of the umpire is largely mechanical. It is a position that offers few possibilities for color.

Among the men who have umpired in the major leagues for the past two score years have been many great umpires, but few real characters, men with color. Tim Lincecum, Silk O'Loughlin, Bill Byron and Bill Guthrie were a few of the unusual characters who have held the indicator. Hurst and O'Loughlin have passed away, while Byron and Guthrie are back in the minors.

In an official capacity, I have been identified with all four, each has his own unusual style. Tim Lincecum was the master at reporting. Silk O'Loughlin was the autocrat of the diamond. No one dared doubt his statement that he never missed one in his life. Bill Byron was the singing arbitrator. When the athletes poured tales of woe into Byron's ear he gave no heed, but sang to their little duties intended to allay their injured feelings, but which usually stirred them up all the more.

A Unique Character
The last of the four unique umpires who have graced the majors was Bill Guthrie, who broke into the American league with me late in the fall of 1922. And, believe me, Bill Guthrie is a mighty good umpire. I shall never forget Bill's opening remark when he greeted me in the dressing room in Detroit.

"Well, kid, here I am. I have been shoeing at this league for 15 years and finally made the grade. Then a slight hesitation. And now the big question is how long am I going to stay here?"

In his very first game Bill chased Catcher Peinich, then playing catcher, from the game. With the sacks loaded and the count three and two Bill called the third strike for the final out, a cure ball that broke over the plate. Peinich protested loudly and then took his shower. The name Peinich was a tongue twister to Bill and before the start of the game he had shortened it to Peinich. Here is how he explained the matter of Peinich when we got into the dressing room.

Called Him Peinich

"What do you think of Peinich the vegetable catcher on the Washington club? I called the third one right in the alley and he turned around and started to sing the 'Washington Song'."

"What did you do?" I asked him. "I told him that everything he said to me was old stuff and unless he had a new set of words, to beat it to the clubhouse." He did.

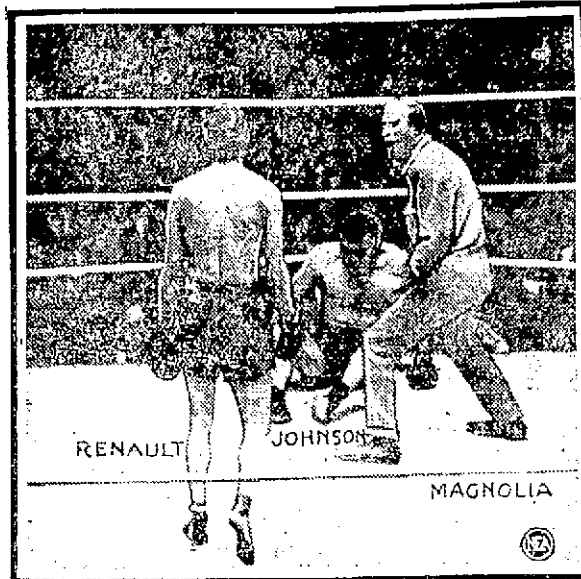

The first time Guthrie saw the New York club he got into an argument on the very first play of the game. Whitey Witt hit a slow grounder to the infield and gave Guthrie a battle line decision at first. Bill called him out. As Witt ran back to protest, Miller Huggins, who had been coaching at third base, also rushed over to join Witt in the chorus. Before either had a chance to say a word, Guthrie shouted:

"The game for you, Witt, and you can take the bat-boy with you. Guthrie, as he pointed at the substitute Huggins. The rally broke with a smile from even the irascible manager of the Yanks and he beat a path with Witt before the game had started.

No Close Decisions
Like O'Loughlin, Guthrie didn't take much stock in the close ones. To him the decisions were either clear or that this home accommodation with the umpire's way of interpreting a runner out, and the that with the speed of a flash. There were no close ones, either one or the other.

During the two months Bill Guthrie worked with me he kept me constantly in good humor. He was original in every way. Any ball player who ever won an argument from Guthrie deserved it. Bill was an unusual character, one of the few that have earned the umpire profession. Had he stuck in the big show, he would have earned a place with Hurst, O'Loughlin and Byron for being original. He would have furnished columns of copy.

I was mighty sorry to see him depart from the majors. He was a good umpire, even though the general belief is that he was only good umpires are the dead ones.

AUTUMN HANDICAP

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 8 (by the Associated Press).—Major Harold Gayer's Poisoned Arrow, by Spearhead, out of White Lie, at 10 to 1 against, won the autumn cup handicap of £2000, one mile and two furlongs, 170 yards, run here today. Sir Joe's Evander, at 10 to 1 against, was second and Lord Derby's Pharo, 1 to 1 against, was third. Fourteen horses ran.

Singing your own praises may be one way to hear them, but you never draw much of a crowd.

FEEL U. S. WILL DECLINE TO PARTICIPATE

PARIS, Nov. 8 (by the Associated Press).—The fact that the French ambassador to the United States, M. Jusserand, has requested a delay in publication of Secretary Hughes' declaration, regarding the proposed expert reparations committee, is taken here as indicating that the United States will decline to participate in the committee. The chances of the committee being organized, consequently are regarded as slight.

There has been no announcement of a declaration from Secretary Hughes regarding the expert committee other than the Hughes-Carson notes and reports of recent conversations between the secretary and Ambassador Jusserand.

LOWELL BOY HONORED

Paul Garrity Elected Football Captain at Naval Training Station

Paul E. "Red" Garrity was recently elected captain of the football eleven at the Newport Naval Training Station, by the unanimous vote of his teammates. "Red," who was well-known in athletics in this city before his enlistment in the navy last September, made the school team without any difficulty and was placed at quarterback. The team has played six games and has won every one of them and the members of the eleven do not hesitate to say that their victories have been due in a great measure to "Red's" generalship.

GHARRITY PASSES UP BIG SHOW

By N.E.A. Service
RELOIT, Wis., Nov. 9.—Eddie Gharrity, star catcher of the Washington team of the American league, is the latest big leaguer to desert the big top for the fast Mid-West industrial league, which comprises teams from Ohio and Wisconsin.

Eddie, when the season closed, came direct to Reloit and signed a contract with the Fairies, a team representing the Fairbanks-Morse company.

During the winter months, Gharrity will perform in that capacity for the Fairies. Next spring he will play either first base or catch for the Reloit club.

Next spring Gharrity was troubled with a sore arm. As a result Ruel started as first string catcher. Ruel had a big year. No less an authority than Connie Mack pronounced him the best catcher in the majors during the 1923 campaign.

Gharrity's contract with Washington terminated at the close of the season. He was offered an all-year job that was so attractive he decided to pass up his big league berth.

CREFELD, Rhineland, Nov. 9.—All the separatists in Crefeld left quietly during the night upon orders issued by the Belgian superior delegate on the Rhineland commission. Before leaving they hauled down their red, white and green flag from the Rathhaus. To prevent violence toward the separatists the Belgian delegate forbade demonstrations or a proclamation announcing the departure, so that the bulk of the inhabitants only learned of the event after it had taken place.

COURT MARTIAL TRIAL

Case Against Lieut. Com. Hunter Expected to Be Completed Today

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 9.—Trial by court-martial of the case of Lieut. Commander Donald T. Hunter, who is charged with culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty incident to the wrecking on the rocks of Point Loma, Cal., Sept. 8, last, of seven ships of destroyer squadron No. 11 is expected to be completed today.

After Hunter, the next defendant to face the court will be Lieut. Laurence P. Blodgett, head of the navigation department of the U. S. S. Delphy, and ship which Hunter was commanding on the night of the crash. With officers of the court showing a disposition to expedite the work of the court-martial as much as possible it is probable that Blodgett's trial will be well under way before today's adjournment.

Lieut. Commander Weyler, counsel for Commander Hunter, yesterday in opening the defense admitted the wrecking of the Delphy but declared he would show that there were certain mitigating circumstances and contributory factors that could not be foreseen.

COAL SITUATION DUE TO LABOR SHORTAGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The present abnormal coal situation is due to shortage of labor, Daniel Anthony, vice president and general agent of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., testified today, at a hearing of the interstate commerce commission into the rates for shipping anthracite coal.

The hearing was the fourth of a series of hearings held in a series of cities, others having been held in Augusta, Me., Montpelier, Vt., and Boston. The next will be held in Philadelphia.

"The Rhineland troops, massed under the command of Dr. Dörten, continue their advance into the Palatinate. They have occupied Landau and several lesser localities. Landau made a general report of the Palatinate and Hesse and declared himself much satisfied with the general situation.

"Some communist elements yesterday tried to provoke disorders in Appenheilm, Winkel and Rudsheim but order was maintained."

GOVERNMENT'S 1924 BUDGET COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Work was virtually completed on the government's 1924 budget today, at a conference participated in by President Coolidge, Secretary Weeks and Director Lord of the budget bureau.

The appropriations to be asked of congress for the fiscal year ending July 1 amount to something like $1,700,000,000, exclusive of public debt interest and postal service outlays. This represents a decrease of $200,000,000 from the budget for the present year.

Lloyd George Back Home

marked: "It's like the other side." The reporters started the ex-premier on politics immediately, asking his opinion on Prime Minister Baldwin's pronouncement at Plymouth regarding protection.

"Judging from the brief reports I have seen, I think it is a most incredible pronouncement, a piece of incredible folly, an insult to the intelligence of the nation, to find the starving industries with the midwinter gnaw of the hard country with every strain of state-maintenance being put out of it," replied Mr. Lloyd George.

The ex-premier said he accepted Mr. Baldwin's challenge on free trade or protection at a domestic issue.

"Your platform will be a free trade platform, as before," he was asked.

"Certainly," he unhesitatingly replied. "The whole difficulty is an old difficulty. You cannot have protection without taxing food, and I am absolutely certain the people of this country will not consent to food taxes."

Mr. Lloyd George described his American visit as "an amazing experience."

"What about America taking a larger share in the European situation?" he was asked.

"I think she has taken a very definite step in the last few weeks," he replied. "I am sure American public opinion is turning more towards cooperation. I saw the great middle west and I feel that distinctly."

Questioned regarding prohibition, Mr. Lloyd George said: "I should not like to express any definite opinion, but if there were a plebiscite I believe America would reaffirm the verdict. Men opposed to prohibition told me that."

"I think America means to use the experiment to the hilt, and America should have a free hand without interference from other nations in this social experiment. It's their business and I'm very glad America is going to have a fair chance to work out the experiment. If they do not succeed they will not hesitate to alter it."

SACCO-VANZETTI CASE

DEBHAM, Nov. 9.—Although Judge Thayer had requested counsel to complete their arguments today to the jury on the Sacco-Vanzetti case, the court adjourned at noon to pay respects to the late Judge Fox.

JURY TO GET STOKES CASE THIS AFTERNOON

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Max D. Steuer, representing W. E. D. Stokes in the federal case against the latter, today resumed his examination, with indications that the jury would get the case this afternoon.

He charged that unfair methods were used to beat down his client's witnesses and prejudice the jury.

Twice Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, interrupted his adversary, declaring he was misrepresenting the testimony.

Once Steuer began, "Up to this case I have had the reputation of always having presented the facts accurately and exactly to the jury," when Mr. Untermyer objected to his "extolling of self." Countering, Steuer said:

"Isn't a man pretty badly hurt by a review of the evidence when he acts this way?"

Steuer declared that Mrs. Stokes, after having had her expenses to Chicago paid by Stokes, in connection with examination of witnesses there, went to Chicago, but remained away from the chambers where the questioning was conducted, and did not confront any of the witnesses for identification.

"They wanted to have the argument at the trial that an identification from a photograph is not satisfactory," he added.

Steuer characterized Untermyer's attack on Horace G. Knowles, former American diplomat as slanders, dirt, Alibi.

Calverley was held in bond of $500. In dismissing Magistrate Corrigan, the judge pointed out that the magistrate, in the performance of his judicial duties, day after day, "observed with indignation and righteous anger, the humiliating consequences of police corruption."

He further said he was convinced that Magistrate Corrigan realized his moral responsibility to make this corruption known to the people and that the magistrate's purpose was to arouse the public conscience and enlist the citizens in the cause of decency, honesty and truth.

Judge Crane said that the alleged libel on Commissioner Bright appeared in but one newspaper because of the fact that Magistrate Corrigan had tried to prevent its publication and that while libel cannot be committed unintentionally or inadvertently, Magistrate Corrigan was not the conscious publisher of the obnoxious libel.

A separation action started by Mrs. Stokes is on the calendar for next Monday.

In the first trial of the Stokes case, the divorce and separation proceedings were linked, but both were thrown out through a technicality.

PERSHING IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 9.—General Pershing was received this morning by Premier Poincare. The American commander was accompanied by Lieut. Col. T. Bentley Mott, American military attaché.

GERMAN GOLD CREDITS ABROAD

PARIS, Nov. 9.—German accumulations of gold credits abroad, part of which would be available for financing a nationalist revolution, are estimated by persons in close touch with international banking interests at the equivalent of about $3,000,000,000.

Some of this is on deposit to the credit of the government, but the greater part is to the credit of the heads of the German industries who are in sympathy with the nationalist movement.

Two hundred million pounds of the total are in London banks, according to an eminent British official, with the balance in the United States, while another $200,000,000 are divided among depositors in Holland, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

Aldrich Blake, Former Executive Counsellor to Gov. Walton, Recalled

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 9.—Aldrich Blake, former executive counsellor to Governor Walton, was recalled by the prosecution today when the impeachment trial of the governor was resumed before the state senate court.

Blake was questioned about several persons alleged to have been put on the state payroll by the governor although they did not work for the state. Asked what were the duties of J. W. Harper, an attaché of the governor's office, Blake said that his only information was from Harper himself who had declared he greeted people around the hotel lobby.

The defense objected to the testimony as hearsay and the court sustained the objection by a roll call. It was the first objection by the defense to be sustained.

Dr. A. B. Davenport, state health commissioner, testified that the governor made a written request that he appoint T. P. Edwards, alleged to be the governor's personal chauffeur, as a health department employee. He said that Edwards rendered no service to his department.

He said a staff of doctors and a matron had been maintained at a state narcotic hospital at Durlington since July at a monthly payroll of about $1500 or $1600, although preparations for opening the home, started at that time, have not yet been carried out. There are no patients at the hospital, he testified.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Central News correspondent in Berlin says that the news from Munich has caused business circles in the German capital to expect the end of the exchange will close. Only official communications are coming over the wires from the Bavarian capital.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The radio broadcast of "Flying" weather forecasts will be heard next Saturday by the communications office of the Charlestown navy yard. It was announced there today.

STUTTGART, Germany, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—The minister of the interior today announced that he issued a proclamation condemning the national coup d'état in Bavaria, and declaring that it will not be allowed to spread to Württemberg where it will be pitilessly suppressed.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A Berlin despatch to the Central News says Dr. Matt, finance minister in the Von Knilling government at Munich, has issued a proclamation in the name of the government warning the military and the public generally that all persons found assisting the revolutionaries will be severely dealt with under the treason act.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The parliamentary correspondent of the German specialists is quoted in a Havas despatch from Berlin as saying that he learns reliable information that the German government will reject any French declaration against the reaction movement, should the French ambassador make them. The government, he adds, could not tolerate foreign interference in Germany's internal affairs.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 9.—The New Hampshire public service commission today named Nov. 22 as the date of a public hearing on the request by the Boston & Maine railroad for an increase in passenger rates as applied to commutation tickets.

BERLIN, Nov. 9, 11:15 a. m. (By the Associated Press.)—Official quarters here were inclined this morning to view the Munich revolt as a passing episode. Chief of protocol, Count von Kahr and Gen. von Lossow were regaining control of the situation.

lowed to extend as far beyond that year as the committee of inquiry might find expedient.

Secretary Hughes is described as saying today that he has been in conversation with M. Jusserand that a meeting of a committee of experts under the conditions laid down by the French government would be useful. It was stated that M. Jusserand requested the secretary to delay any public announcement until he had time to communicate with Premier Poincare.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press.) To what extent the attitude of France has blocked plans for an American participation in the reparations discussions is a question which the American government apparently is not yet prepared to answer.

Informed of the Paris semi-official announcement as he was leaving a long session of the cabinet, Secretary Hughes expressed great surprise, but declined to make any comment.

In his last talk with Ambassador Jusserand, Mr. Hughes asked several questions as to details of the French attitude, and it was agreed that for the present there would be no public announcement. The secretary said today that he had received no reply to his queries, and it was declared at the French embassy that none had reached here from Paris.

Both the state department and the embassy likewise were without official advice regarding the statement given today by the foreign office. After he left the White House, Secretary Hughes took immediate steps to ascertain the purpose of the announcement.

that a score would be padlocked before night.

Label proceedings, Commissioner Raynes said, would be brought late today to close up the breweries temporarily until the department of justice can set into action to close them for a year.

The campaign is in charge of C. E. Vohs, chief of prohibition agents, and has been in preparation for several months. Similar campaigns are to be launched against breweries in other parts of the country.

Prohibition headquarters and the department of justice co-operated in the raid today, and will act jointly in the coming days, including the padlocking proceedings and those against brewers arrested.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The market resumed its demonstration of yesterday in modest accessories, price at the opening of today's market being higher. A few losses were recorded.

Trading became more irregular in the secondary dealings. While the market showed busy realization and bear pressure in response to the unfavorable turn in the German political situation which was reflected in a drop of three cents in sterling to $4.40, the lowest of the year, effective support was extended to many of the less popular shares. Stromberg Carborundum, Kelsey Wheel and Maxwell Motors A opened 1 1/2 to 2 points higher.

Efforts to depress prices through speculative selling and realizing sales halted soon after the opening today when the market displayed considerable capacity to take all offerings at slight concessions. Fluctuations were restricted to a narrow radius in the so-called "leaders"—American Can, U. S. Steel, General Motors and Steelcase; but elsewhere the rise was pushed vigorously. The motor accessories, equipments, food and public utilities were among the strongest groups.

A variety of industrial and specialties ruled 1 to nearly 2 points higher. Stromberg Carborundum and Railway Steel Springs rose 1/2 points. Conklyn advanced 3/4, a new high at 17 1/2. Pullman moved up 1/2, and Maxwell Motors A gained 1 point. Calumet opened at 5 per cent.

Oils, coppers, leathers and shippings took the price action. The oil market when some of the earlier leaders lagged, and there was also a better inquiry for railroad shares, especially Lehigh Valley and Reading. Steelcase touched 104, which was equivalent to 106 1/2, allowing for the 2 1/2 per cent dividend deducted today.

Jersey Central and Elkhart Body rose five and ten points, respectively, were the outstanding strong spots in the late dealings.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Cotton futures opened weak. ## FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

Public Service Board and Mayor Confer With Public Utility Heads

Plan Devised Whereby Streets Opened Will Be Returned to Original Condition

As result of a conference held with the board of public service yesterday afternoon by representatives of seven public utility corporations, the board will recommend the establishment of a new system of street repairs in spots torn up by these corporations in the construction of new service or extensions. This new system will be for the purpose of seeing to it that streets are repaired in a condition comparable with the original surface and in practically every case the work will be done by street department employees and the cost billed to the public service corporation to whom the permit to open the highway was issued.

The conference came about as result of a letter sent to the board early this week by Mayor John J. Donovan, in which it was stated that complaints have reached his ears relative to the unsatisfactory conditions of streets following openings by public utility corporations. Also, the law department has been called upon to settle a number of claims growing out of poorly repaired streets.

Present at the conference in addition to the members of the public service board, were William E. Bauger and S. S. Kent of the Locks and Canals; W. C. Johnson of the N. E. Tel. and Tel. Co.; Maurice E. McCormick, manager, and E. P. Seymour, roadmaster of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co.; William Ryan, Postal Tel. Co.; T. A. Thorpe, Western Union; A. J. Flanders, Lowell Gas Light Co.; and C. W. Brown, Lowell Electric Light Corp.

Each of these representatives who spoke, and most of them did, stated that his company much preferred to have the city do all such repair work and bill the cost to the corporation involved.

Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board, suggested the appointment of a repair gang and one or more supervisors within the street department to make a special business of doing just this type of work. It also was suggested by Engineer Stephen Kearney that some arrangement be made whereby money paid by public service corporations on bills presented be credited to the street maintenance appropriation instead of being placed in the general treasury fund, but this seemed hardly possible under present financial laws.

Chairman Murphy opened the conference by declaring that many complaints have been received relative to tearing up streets and repairing them in a haphazard manner, sometimes by paving and sometimes with common dirt. When a permit is issued in the street department office it is stipulated thereon that the street is to be returned to its original condition. He said also he has found all local public service corporations fair in such matters and always willing to co-operate with his board in any possible manner.

"What we lack is a system," he continued, "and I feel the city is as much to blame as the corporations here represented."

After one or two of the public utility corporations' representatives had spoken and expressed a preference of having the city do all repair work, City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds inquired as to tunneling which is done in a number of instances and raised the question of weakening the surface to such an extent as to make a cave-in possible. He said repairs done in Gorham street this summer have not left the street in as good condition as it was originally.

Engineer Kearney said it would be impossible for the street department to maintain its regular paving program and do all the repairing required in addition. The department neither has the time nor money to do it, he declared. He favored the creation of an appropriation or fund to which re-

Opportunity Tomorrow to Help Disabled Veterans—Proclamation by Mayor

Lowell people tomorrow will be asked to give toward the comfort and happiness of those among its service men who came out of the World War crippled in body and mind and now must depend upon the generosity of their fellow men for maintenance and care. They are members of the Disabled War Veterans of America, for whom Forget-Me-Not day now has become an annual institution.

Tomorrow on the streets forget-me-nots will be sold as a means of raising money to be expended for these veterans and the public is urged to give freely to a most justifiable and worthy cause.

That Mayor John J. Donovan has interested himself in the success of the day is evinced by the following proclamation issued by him today:

A PROCLAMATION

"A few short years ago thousands of our young men answered the call to colors to go overseas to uphold the honor and glory of the Stars and Stripes. Months later our triumphant troops returned, victory perched upon their brows, the standards and flags, with mingled feelings of joy and sadness in their hearts; joy at returning to the homeland to those they loved; sadness in their hearts for their comrades left behind to sleep in Flanders field.

"In the ranks of the victorious were many broken in health and spirit, crippled and in need of tender and loving care. For the dead we have our prayers to offer that they may be happy in the great beyond; for the living we have only earthly means. We must 'keep them smiling'.

"On Nov. 10, the Disabled American Veterans throughout the United States conduct their annual Forget-Me-Not day and come before the public for aid. I urge every man, woman and child of our city, a city that is proud of its service men and one that has always done its bit, head their call for assistance. It is the one remaining way that we can show our gratitude to those boys who faced the enemy with smiles on their lips and courage in their hearts."

pair gang work could be directly charged.

Mr. Murphy stressed the need of a follow-up system and Mr. Murphy suggested the establishment of a repair gang, headed by one or more inspectors, whose duty it would be to look after all excavations made in the streets on permits and to return the thoroughfare to its original condition.

The mayor favored this suggestion and the conference closed with this idea in mind.

The board discussed the need of new boilers at the West Sixth street pumping station in connection with a recent communication from the mayor bearing upon the subject and plans and specifications covering the purchase and installation of two new boilers, at a cost of about $13,000, were submitted to His Honor for consideration.

Pending such a time as all members of the public service board have had opportunity to determine the merits of two street cleaning machines upon which bids recently were submitted. It was decided that the mayor would withhold his approval of an award made to the Elgin Co. by purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly. The matter and a full expression of the board's members is expected at the next or subsequent meeting.

A communication from Michael H. Harrington, superintendent of ash and waste collection, relative to the dump in the rear of the Textile school, was received and placed on file. All offensive material thereon has been covered as requested by the board of health, to whom a number of complaints had been directed.

A request from the school committee that Kirk street be paved from Paige to French streets was referred to the engineer.

An order was adopted for a 50-foot sewer extension in Seventh avenue, to cost $350. It was decided that city lodges should cease operations after next week.

Adjourned at 4.35 p. m.

Prior to the regular meeting the members of the board went on a view and later approved monthly bills.

LIQUOR CASES IN COURT

Three Months and Fine of $100 in One Case—Another Continued

A fine of $150 and sentence of three months in the house of correction was imposed on Joseph Connelly in district court this morning for illegally keeping liquor. It was his second offense of this nature.

Connelly's arrest was brought about as the result of a raid in the neighborhood of the city hall. Officers Monegan, Keegan, Bagley and Kilroy went there last night and seized a quantity of liquor.

A second raid last night brought Noel Laferrere before the court for illegal keeping. He pleaded not guilty this morning and was continued until Nov. 20, bonds being set at $300.

Sergeant Wilman, Federal Agent Sullivan and Officer Conroy were responsible for Laferrere's arrest after they had raided the premises at 168 Hall street and procured several pint bottles of whiskey.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press).—The inter-allied council of ambassadors has been summoned to meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon to consider the situation in Germany.

Exchanges of views are proceeding between France and her allies as to the action that may be necessary if the movement in Bavaria extends to other states in the Reich.

It was learned today that the French military secret service became aware of the movement in Bavaria yesterday morning and that it was this knowledge that prompted the French government to notify Berlin that it could not tolerate the establishment of a military dictatorship.

CHARGED WITH PASSING BOGUS CHEQUES

Miss Lorena Love, alias McLove, 33 years old, was arrested in Salem for the Lowell police last night and was brought to this city by Officer Frank Moloney early this afternoon.

She is wanted here for the alleged passing of worthless checks. Harry Armand, a John street store-owner, complained that she procured a sum of money from him by this method about three months ago. She disappeared soon after the act and was at large until picked up by the Salem police by means of a description furnished from local headquarters.

A gathering of representative real estate men from almost every section of the state met in Liberty hall last evening for a business meeting and banquet of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange. Many prominent speakers were present to address the meeting on the various angles of the real business and of industries in their relation to real estate.

Preceding the speaking, the toastmaster, John B. Richards of Fall River, president of the Real Estate Owners' Association of that city, proposed toasts to Calvin Coolidge, United States president, and Chandler Cox, governor of Massachusetts, as true friends of law, order and justice, three things that this country stands in great need of today.

W. Franklin Burnham, president of the exchange, was the first speaker of the program, and he commended himself with a discussion of the taxation problem and a plan for all to exert themselves to see that a basis was established for appraising of property that would be fair to all concerned. He spoke of the work that the exchange is doing to help the tax payers in this state in addition to the help it is giving to real estate brokers with their own troublesome problems. Character is the foundation of success in any business nowadays, he declared, and a real estate man especially must be just in his dealings or he will lose the confidence of his prospective customers. He hoped that all would see lower construction costs within three or four years, due to a reduction in charges for railroad transportation that is predicted at present.

The principal address of the evening was given by Harry M. Meserve, secretary of the Cotton Manufacturers' association, and formerly a resident of this city. He is a former Congressional minister.

The subject on which Mr. Meserve spoke was "The Cotton Industry and Its Relation to Real Estate." He pointed out the importance of the cotton industry to the state and the fact that many of the cotton manufacturers of New England owe their existence to some particular form of industry and therefore should endeavor to do all in their power to aid these industries. New England, he declared, is the ideal place for the cotton industry, and manufacturing should prosper here even better than in the south and west. The main need here is enthusiasm, said Mr. Meserve.

He praised New England and Lowell in particular for the manner in which they are endeavoring to solve the cotton problem. He pointed out the fact that the cotton industry is a very important industry in the state and that it is one of the main sources of employment for the people of the state. He urged the cotton manufacturers to do all in their power to aid the cotton industry and to see that the cotton industry is not driven out of the state by the competition of the south and west.

Mr. Meserve's address was well received and he was given a warm greeting at the end of his talk.

The program was closed by Hon. Walter H. Creamer, former mayor of Lowell and chairman of the legislative committee of the exchange. His talk was on taxation, every angle of which he covered during the course of the speech in a most interesting manner. The issue of making the taxes just depends on the great mass of people and not on the few who are the tax payers. He urged the people to do all in their power to aid the cotton industry and to see that the cotton industry is not driven out of the state by the competition of the south and west.

In many countries of Europe through which he recently travelled, Mr. Creamer observed that the taxes are levied not upon the owner of the land but rather upon the persons inhabiting the land. This tends to create a feeling of interest in just taxation among the great mass of the people, and he felt that it might not work out so badly in this country, where interest in public and economic matters is at a low ebb in many sections.

The dinner was attended by approximately 100 persons, and many prominent Lowell men were in the gathering, as well as real estate men from Boston, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lynn, Fall River, Salem, New Bedford and Cambridge.

DISTRICT COURT LATE IN CONVENING

The expected appearance of two judges in the district court this morning, one for the juvenile session and another for the regular session, did not materialize with the result that the district court cases did not come up for disposition until after 11 o'clock.

Thomas Brown and George Geoffrey appeared for breaking and entering and larceny. Deputy Downey told the court that both men had been indicted by the grand jury for stealing automobile tires in this city. In view of the indictment, the cases were continued until Nov. 23.

Charles H. Scott of Hollis, N. H., charged with drunkenness and operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued in $400 until tomorrow.

A non-support charge, preferred against Martin J. Finn, was continued one week.

The modern locomotive is capable of running 112 miles an hour, an amount of friction and danger, 60 miles is not often exceeded.

WAITING ROOM AT GALLAGHER'S

Trolley Company Will Probably Use Candy Store as Temporary Shelter

Will Continue Effort to Find More Suitable Place at Reasonable Rental

Only official sanction from the trustees of the street railway company is necessary before a waiting room for our patrons is provided in Merrimack square. Gallagher's candy store, located just to the west of the junction of Bridge and Merrimack streets, on the north side of Merrimack street, will be used temporarily.

This was the outcome of a conference at city hall late yesterday afternoon between District Manager Maurice E. McCormick of the trolley corporations, members of the waiting room committee of the city council, and representatives of various local improvement associations. Council President James J. Gallagher, the prospective landlord, presided at the session.

Move Only Temporary

Mr. Gallagher explained that he would permit the use of his store by the trolley company provided that it proved not to injure his business and provided further that it should be only temporary and to relieve the present urgent need for some such convenience. Mr. McCormick assured the conference that the trolley company would continue to look for another location and would be glad to take any location available should one be presented.

"All we want is someone to show us the place—where the rent is not unreasonable," said Mr. McCormick. Asked if the company would object to paying rental on two stores, say Mr. Gallagher's for one and another store on Paige street to care for the Centralville people, Mr. McCormick said he felt sure there would be no objection providing the combined rental was not too exorbitant.

Rental Price Main Difficulty

In answer to a question as to how much rent the trolley company is willing to pay, Mr. McCormick stated that the trustees believe that $100 is about the high limit. He said the main difficulty thus far has not been unwillingness on the part of the city to provide a waiting room, but rather inability to procure one at a rental at all within their price.

The Courier-Citizen building, about to be vacated, would make an ideal location and the first floor could be fitted to serve the purpose admirably, said Mr. McCormick. The owners, however, desire to rent the whole building for a price in the vicinity of $9,000 a year and taxes. This would be prohibitive, Mr. McCormick said, adding that the company could not take the whole building and sublet parts thereof as the trustees are prohibited by statute from doing a real estate business. They have been already required to dispose of what real estate they previously held which was not used exclusively in connection with the operation of its lines, he added.

The suggestion that glass roofs might be extended over the sidewalks and petitions, to go along the curbs, erected in stormy weather, was held not feasible as it would interfere with the display of goods by merchants in their show-windows and might involve lawsuits against both the city and the trolley company.

Positive Decision Monday

In regard to the Gallagher store, Mr. McCormick stated that some time ago when the company planned to make a waiting room there, seat measurements were taken and setbacks made to go into the store. The company still has these setbacks, he said. He believed that he could by Monday have an answer from the trustees relative to making use of the Gallagher store.

The rental of the Green drug store, suggested as a waiting room, was said to be in the vicinity of $10,500 a year, which makes the use of that store out of the question. It is further understood, it was said, that the Green store expires in a year or so and that the store is already promised to a chain cigar store firm when the Green lease expires.

The matter of securing the Merrimack street store recently vacated by the Royal bakery was mentioned but passed by when it was stated the annual rental was about $7200.

Service is Criticized

Richard Sykes took advantage of the conference with Manager McCormick in complaint of the trolley service given on the South End and South Lowell lines. He said that should the company run these cars on fifteen minute instead of half-hour time, he felt sure that the increased revenue which would accrue thereby would justify the better schedules.

Mr. McCormick promised to look into the matter and take it up with him later.

Councillors Genest and Gallagher were the city government representatives at the meeting. Councilor Caron was unable to attend. Other attendees, who represented various improvement associations, were Thomas F. Garvey, Arthur C. Spalding, John B. Keegan and C. F. Cronin.
